Chinese Shoot Down Pilotless Plane

TOKYO (UPI)—A pilotless U.S. high altitude military reconnaissance plane was shot down over southwest China Wednesday, the Communist New China News Agency reported.

The plane was shot down by an air unit of the Chinese Liberation Army as it came on a "provocative reconnaissance" flight.

Viet Cong Stampede Tank Unit

SAIGON (UPI)—Attacking Viet Cong stampeded a government armored unit from its compound just north of Saigon early Thursday. Fleeing tanks that rumbled right up to the outskirts of the capital threw the coup-minded city into a quick alert.

The Communist attack came shortly after American marines and troops from South Korea's Tiger Division reported counting 700 Viet Cong dead on two separate battlegrounds.

Two Viet Cong battalions were said to have attacked the South Vietnamese compound about 10 miles north of Saigon.

Reports of Viet Cong dead came from victorious U.S. Marines who counted more than 500 bodies Wednesday as they continued mop up details as part of Operation Texas in Quang Ngai province.

The Koreans, in their biggest operation of the war, swept through an area 280 miles northeast of Saigon that has been a Communist sanctuary dominated by the Viet Cong for more than a decade.

The Koreans reported counting 204 bodies by nightfall Wednesday after fierce fighting.

Boys Steal Locomotive And Hit Car

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Police looked three youngsters in the theft of a Southern Pacific diesel locomotive which was driven 15 miles to a collision with an automobile, then abandoned.

No Serious Incidents

By JOSEPH MacSWEENEY
LONDON (CP)—Some blokes are willing to come out and say flatly just how serious they consider the racial issue in the British election campaign.

"It's dead serious," said one worker in Smethwick, quoted in The Evening Standard.

"It's all-important. This place is getting blacker every day. I tell you this, man, if it gets any worse, man, I'll have to go back to Jamaica."

White Hate Wins Negro Tot Loser

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI)—A Caucasian minister and his wife will give up a two-year-old Negro boy they adopted a year ago because they have been "harassed, humiliated and threatened" by persistent telephone callers.

Rev. Albert Cohen, 38, and his wife, Ann, 33, said they will return the boy, David, to the Los Angeles County Adoption Agency on Monday. They were scheduled to sign final adoption papers later this month.

Mr. Cohen, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, serves as the Protestant chaplain at California State College at Fullerton.

"We have to give up," Mr. Cohen said. "We thought we could stand up and be counted but we just don't have the personal strength."

"We found out what Fullerton's like. It's Watts in reverse."

Cohen said the callers often would ask: "Have you checked all the kids recently?" The couple has four natural children.

Last Sunday night he said he received a call from a man who told him: "Get rid of the Nigger or you might find one of your children gone."

Mr. Cohen said he had been given police protection since someone painted "Watts" on the front door of his home two weeks ago.

"It was all right at first," Mrs. Cohen said. "We thought it would work out even though all our friends, black and white, told us it wouldn't."

"I can feel and see the resentment. I'm afraid to take David into a store with me," she said.

"Giving up David at one time would have been the worst thing that could happen. Now what's happening is worse."

Cohen served as a line officer in the Navy until 1954,

David and Rev. Albert Cohen

then studied for his divinity degree at Oberlin Seminary. Before coming to California State College last July, he had served as pastor of Congregational churches in England and in the nearby communities of Whittier and South Pasadena.

Cohen said he had been told by the Los Angeles agency that David would be put up again for adoption.

House Opens Debate

By RON COLLISTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — If Steven Truscott had been a few years older, he would have been hanged by the neck and there would now be no way to reverse that verdict, a death-penalty abolitionist told the Commons Wednesday night.

Andrew Brewin, one of the leading speakers in the death-penalty debate, used the Truscott case in his attack on the fallibility of justice.

The Truscott case, he said, showed that mistakes can be made, "particularly in the atmosphere created by the com-

Something Funny Going On!

Truscotts Worry

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Daniel Truscott, mother of Steven Truscott, 21, who is serving a life term for the murder of a 15-year-old girl seven years ago, says she believes "something funny" is going on.

She said Tuesday four psychiatrists have seen her son recently and she and her husband are worried.

While Mrs. Truscott visited her son, his father, Warrant Officer Daniel Truscott, of Richmond, near Ottawa, called Allan MacLeod, the commissioner of penitentiaries, Tuesday to protest the rush of psychiatrists.

Heroin Suspects Murdered

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A former doctor and his wife, who had been awaiting trial on charges of possessing $120,000 in heroin, were found dead in their home here Wednesday.

Police said both had been shot in the head in what appeared to have been a double murder. The weapon was not found.

Police said it appeared that Henry and Margaret Anne McLaughlin had been shot during the night. Both wore night attire.

BODIES FOUND
Mrs. McLaughlin's brother discovered the bodies Wednesday when he called at the house. The McLaughlins were arrested with two other persons last December following a raid on their home by RCMP and drug squad detectives. Joseph Sperling, 45, was committed for trial on possession and trafficking charges along with Henry McLaughlin, 72, and Margaret Anne McLaughlin, 48.

SEVEN-YEAR TERM
Thelma Mosier, 40, was given a seven-year prison sentence following her trial on similar charges in February.

Police had said following the raid that seizure of the heroin in this West Coast port city had choked off one of three major drug supply rings in the Vancouver area.

Alpinists Driving To Summit

KLEINE SCHEIDEDEGG, Switzerland (AP)—A death-defying climb of Mount Elger's north wall entered its final dramatic phase Wednesday with West German alpinist Joerg Lehne reported 600 feet below the summit.

As a thick cloud shrouded the upper part of the triangular mountain, Lehne was leading a determined party of 10 men vying to scale it in the name of their dead colleague, American John Harlin.

When last seen by a powerful telescope set up in the Kleinscheidegg pass, Lehne was working feverishly on a steep, overhanging rock, hammering in nails and moving up fairly fast.

His position was pinpointed as only 600 feet below the 14,000-foot summit whose mile-high precipice has been a challenge to hundreds of alpinists.

Racial Issue Quiet in U.K.

The West Indian's humor cannot, of course, erase the ugly memories of racial bitterness associated with Smethwick ever since the 1964 election when it was home of the slogan: "If you want a nigger neighbor, vote Labor."

The racial issue appears to be playing a much smaller part in the current campaign than it did in 1964, although it could still sway decisions in some constituencies.

With only one week to go before the March 31 poll, no serious incidents have been reported. However, as Prime Minister Wilson once said in another context: "A lot can happen in a week."

A curious development came Tuesday when Labor candidate Richard Marsh in London-Greenwich ordered an investigation into a Conservative complaint against a Labor canvasser.

The canvasser, it was alleged, put the word around that

Campaign Climax

If the Tories win next week, they will open the doors to floods of Indian immigrants. That, with the party positions reversed, was exactly the kind of charge flung around in 1964.

By Wednesday, Marsh was accusing the Tories of stirring up a racial campaign while Tory candidate John Gummer hotly denied it, saying Labor was to blame.

New Quakes Rock China

TOKYO (UPI)—Two powerful new earthquakes rocked China's Hopedi province Wednesday afternoon, destroying many buildings and raising the toll of dead, injured and homeless from a series of quakes that have hit northern Chinese areas.

"Considerable" property damage and some loss of life in the new quakes that struck the Bengai, Hengshui and Shihchiang areas of southern Hopedi, was reported.

Indonesia Plans Non-Red Cabinet

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia's new government is reported seeking to form a cabinet that would eliminate all Communist elements.

The military newspaper Angkatan Bersenjata said Wednesday the cabinet will consist of about 24 members.

It quoted Sri Sultan Ham-

gku Buwono, a member of the presidium weighing the changes, as saying: "A fresh atmosphere which is free from the PKI (Indonesian Communist party) elements has to be created first to enable the cabinet to work for the people's interests, particularly in the fields of food and clothing and regional development."

$5,000 Worth of Compassion

Gerda Proves All Heart

OTTAWA (CP)—The sad story of Charles Lynch's brief but exciting "fling" with Gerda Munsinger was unfolded in the Ottawa Citizen Wednesday.

Lynch, chief of Southern News Services, told in his daily column, The Nation, how his $5,000 bid for the Canadian rights to the West German beauty's story of her life in Munich.

Then he discovered that the publishers of the six Southern newspapers involved in the purchase were not in agreement as to the story's worth.

They voted 4 to 2 against and Mr. Lynch found himself with—or almost with—a contract he could not back up.

A fast phone call to Southern staffer Charles King in Munich caught Gerda with pen poised, but the contract still unsigned.

"Gentlemen," writes Lynch, "never underestimate the compassion of a woman when she has a guy over a barrel... Gerda turned out to be all heart."

She put the pen away. Mr. King pocketed the unsigned contract.

Now Gerda Probably Not Coming

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters)—The agent for Gerda Munsinger, central figure in the alleged sex and security scandal in Canada, said Wednesday he is negotiating to make a satirical movie of the affair.

Josef van Vercy said: "I want to show... how a girl behaves when she gets involved in big politics."

He added that Mrs. Munsinger will "in all probability" not return to Canada to clear her name.

Expert Finds:

UFO Reports 'More Consistent'

By HOWARD FIELDS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—The top Air Force expert on unidentified flying objects said Wednesday recent reports of a glowing object seen throughout southern Michigan are "more consistent" than most he has investigated.

Dr. H. Allen Hynek of Northwestern University, chief scientific adviser for the Air Force project Blue Book, refused to speculate, however, on what might be behind the rash of UFO sightings in recent days.

Hynek has been in the area and hip boots for his close-up look at a swamp near Dexter,

Mich., where a farmer reported the ghost ship landed Sunday night, said "I'm still gathering the facts."

Hynek has been in the area since Tuesday, interviewing witnesses and examining areas where the object was reported. His investigation has been carried on behind air force secrecy but he made his comments when encountered at the Dexter police station where he was questioning the police chief and several officers.

"It's like reports from people who saw a fire," the goateed astrophysicist said. "You get as many different facts as you get people who saw the fire. So far, all I've been able to come up with is reports of a variety of lights."

Hynek said: "I wish we had some photographs of this and more technical observers. The ideal situation would be to have a spectrograph trained on the object to determine its makeup. I wish we had them available."

"Frequently these things turn out to be usual things seen under unusual circumstances," he said. Hynek

estimated that of the unexplained 10 per cent of UFO's reported since 1948, most could have been identified with a spectrograph.

Hynek said that as an astronomer he would have to admit that "possibly yes," there are intelligent beings in other solar systems, "but it's a long step to say we are being visited by them."

Hynek said he planned another interview with Frank Mannor, the farmer who reported getting a close look at a solid vehicle in marsh near his Dexter farm. His previous interview was interrupted.

Braque Still Life Leads

20th Century Art Sale Brings In $1,228,350

NEW YORK (UPI)—The greatest sale of 20th Century art ever to come on the world auction block brought $1,228,350 Wednesday night in the first of two sessions which broke sale prices for paintings by Leger and Mondrian and sculptures by Rodin, Picasso and Moore.

Another auction session of the collection of the late G. David Thompson, Pittsburgh steel fabricator, is expected to push the sale total to nearly $3,000,000 Thursday. Five of the paintings were among the $300,000 worth of art stolen from Thompson's suburban

Pittsburgh home in 1961 and recovered five months later. The top price was $120,000 for a Braque still life painted in 1918. It was purchased by the Beyeler Gallery of Basel, Switzerland. Runner-up was a 1923 Picasso, Three Swimmers, purchased by Philadelphia grocery chain tycoon George Friedman.

The Rhode Island School of Design, in Providence, carried off the prize sculpture, one of Rodin's three castings of Balzac, a powerful nude study, for $70,000. Picasso's splendid bronze, The Cook, went to the Perls Gallery of New York for

$49,500, and Henry Moore's Seated Woman went to New York attorney Ralph Colin for $47,500.

Leger's 1914 Stairway sent that artist's cubist period work soaring into the $100,000 class, the price paid by a New York agent on behalf of a private collector. The same price fetched Picasso's Woman with Mandolin for an anonymous American collector, and New York dealer Robert Elton paid $60,000 for a Mondrian Composition in Red, Blue and Yellow.

House Opens Debate on Hanging mission of horrible and detestable crimes.

The shadows of Truscott and fourteen men now under sentence of death for murder were cast across the chamber as the debate began.

ONE MAN NEUTRAL

Five men spoke. Four were abolitionists. The fifth said he was neutral.

The first day was a first-round victory for the abolitionists, but total abolition, if the present mood continues, is expected to be rejected by the Commons.

The resolution before the chamber urges total abolition, the substitution of life imprisonment, without parole unless the cabinet approves.

In the days and weeks of wrangling ahead, MPs are expected to suggest:

- A plebiscite.
- An amendment to retain the death penalty for killers of policemen and jail guards.
- Retention of the law as it is.

The leaders of the two main parties, Prime Minister Pearson and Tory Leader Diefenbaker, have yet to indicate their stand on abolition.

Mr. Pearson is understood to be an abolitionist, that has of a government that has committed all death sentences since it took office in 1963.

Mr. Diefenbaker may also be an abolitionist, except in a few rare cases, such as treason.

In the Commons, Mr. Diefenbaker tried to get Mr. Pearson to enter the debate.

Did the prime minister intend to give his considered views based on his experience as prime minister for three years, considering many cases?

Mr. Pearson said he would prefer to listen to the views of other members before deciding if he would participate in the debate.

Tory Robert McLeave asked the prime minister about the fate of convicted murderers now under sentence of death.

Would their fate be settled by the cabinet under existing law and practice — would it await the outcome of the debate?

Mr. Pearson said it was an improper question because it dealt with the royal prerogative.

FOUR AUTHORS

The resolution to abolish the death penalty is authored by four MPs: Reid Scott, New Democrat, Toronto; Danforth; Terry Nugent, Tory, Edmonton; and two Liberals, Robert Stanbury, York-Scarboro, and James Byrne, Kootenay East.

The four men drew lots to see who could be the first speaker, and Mr. Nugent won.

Mr. Nugent, a lawyer, said: "I do not want to molly-coddle criminals, but I do not see how hanging a man is going to bring someone back to life."

STAKED SEAT

Mr. Byrne, an ex-minister and union official who has staked his seat on the innocence of Steven Truscott, said:

"Capital punishment casts a shadow over the social structure of 20th century civilization."

"Carrying out the death sentence is nothing less than an act of vengeance perpetrated by the state on behalf of the people."

"It is some form of a hangover of a barbaric method of retribution that should hold no place in the enlightened society of our age."

B.C. SOCIETY

Howard Johnston, a B.C. Society, said:

"One of the most telling arguments against capital punishment is that it may in some cases encourage what it is supposed to deter."

"Let us not amend the law for a trial period. If we close this episode in the history of Canada, let us leave it closed."

MANY HAVE ACTED

Mr. Brown argued that many nations in the free world have abolished capital punishment without ill effects and they are among the leading, most civilized countries.

The society of human life, he said, required that the state itself should not impose or sanction the deliberate killing of human beings.

The basic question that parliament had to decide, he said, was whether or not the retention of the death penalty is needed for the protection of society and to deter potential murderers.

NO EFFECT

But there was conclusive proof that it had no effect on the murder rate.

"I say frankly that if I and others who take the same view were convinced that capital punishment was shown to be the most effective deterrent to murder, no matter how repulsive it might be to us, we would be compelled to support its continuation."

"But all the evidence points the other way."

WOOD CARRIED WATER

Political experts have long pondered the implications of a 1964 swing toward the Tories in the "black country," the area including Smethwick. This is named not for the color of the population but the industrial grime that coats its cities.

Life has often been hard in the area and men, it is felt, have an instinctive fear of competition for jobs, typified by this year.

A black countryman sees a man in a river, watches him drown, then rushes to the factory, to get his job, but finds another bidder ahead.

"I've just seen him drown, how did you get here ahead of me?" he asked.

"I pushed him in," was the reply.

Await Date With Hangman

Debate Truly Vital To These 14 Men

By RONALD LEBEL.

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons debate on abolition of capital punishment is of vital interest to the 14 men now awaiting dates with the hangman.

Ten of those sentenced to die are in Quebec jails, three in British Columbia and one in Alberta.

They include two Quebec separatist terrorists, a morbid gravedigger and assorted hoodlums.

FIRST DATE

Lloyd Lyding, convicted in Edmonton last May 14, has the first appointment with the executioner—April 5. He lost an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada and only Parliament or the cabinet now can save him, unless a second appeal is launched.

The 13 other convicted killers all have appeals pending and they are certain to receive days of execution until all legal processes have been exhausted. They are:

LEVASSEUR

Claude Levasseur, convicted at Drummondville, Que., April 28, sentenced to die July 15.

Francis Schirm and Edmond Gosselin, separatists convicted in Montreal May 21 of shooting a gun shop operator in an arms raid, sentenced to die April 22.

Beland and Jacques Parier, two brothers convicted in Montreal June 11 of beating nightclub dancer Margot Turner to death, executions set for May 20.

Robert Collins, convicted in Montreal Oct. 8, execution set for July 15.

REPRIVING DUE

Roger Fulton, convicted in Vancouver Oct. 20, execution set for April 12, but a reprieve is expected since he is appealing to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Roger Chevalier, convicted in Montreal Nov. 20, execution set for April 28.

Roger Pelletier, convicted in Montreal Nov. 25 of killing fellow prisoner Bernard Robitaille in a prison stabbing; execution set for July 8.

William Tamas, convicted in Montreal Jan. 18, execution set for May 15.

Frederick Turner, convicted Jan. 30 in New Westminster, B.C., execution set for May 17.

Marcel Bernier, the Shawinigan, Que., gravedigger convicted Feb. 24 in the sex slaying of a teenage girl, sentenced to die July 22.

Michael Kasyk, convicted in

New Westminster March 2, sentenced to die June 7.

All except Fulton are appealing to provincial appeal courts. Fulton's appeal will be heard by the Supreme Court here late next month.

Truscott

Worried

Steven has served almost seven years for the 1959 strangling of Lynne Harper, 12, of Clinton, Ont. Public interest in his case has been spotlighted by publication of the book The Trial of Steven Truscott in which Toronto writer Isabel LeBourdais says he is innocent. Steven, 14 at the time, has maintained he is innocent.

Mrs. Truscott said she and her husband are particularly worried about the psychiatrists because of an earlier suggestion by a psychiatrist at Collins Bay Penitentiary that Steven go for treatment to Penetanguishene Hospital for the criminally insane.

PROTEST TO OTTAWA

Mr. and Mrs. Truscott protested to Ottawa at that time that their son was under great pressure to change his steadfast story of innocence.

Mrs. Truscott said Steven hasn't been allowed to read the book by Mrs. LeBourdais. A copy was taken to the penitentiary last week by his brother Kenneth, 23, of Montreal.

Warden Fred Smith said Wednesday that it is against prison regulations for prisoners to have access to books other than those in the prison library.

Warden Smith said suggestions that Truscott might have been pressured to admit guilt of the murder are nonsense.

He called Mrs. Truscott earlier this week to come and visit her son. "I was worried about the effect all this pressure might have on the boy."

Meet in Tokyo

TORONTO (CP) — Miss E. Henrietta Oiler, Toronto, chief commissioner for the Girl Guides of Canada, will be chairman of the 19th conference of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts to be held in Tokyo, Sept. 28 Oct. 9.

Sixty-eight countries will be represented at the conference, first to be held in Asia.

Other outstanding prices were $70,000 for a Matinee portrait, paid by dealer Elkon; $51,000 for a Klee oil by a New York private collector, and $45,000 for a Gris still life by another New York private collector.

collector, Nathan Cummings, head of the Consolidated Foods empire, paid $30,000 for a Leger still life and Friedland won Soutine's Boy in Blue for $50,000. Beyeler got Picasso's 1929 Blue Bone for $55,000.

ruptured by a press of curiosity seekers and newsmen. Mannor said he has been the subject of taunts and vandalism since he reported the sightings.

Mannor, who ran into the swamp with his son to get a look at the object Sunday night, said he and a son-in-law closely searched the area Tuesday but found no trace of the UFO.

He said he would ask police to guard his home Wednesday night to keep pranksters away. He attributed the vandalism and taunts to local teenagers.

Your Good Health

Nausea in Sleep Hints at Hernia

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: I cannot convince my wife that she should consult a physician about her difficulty. For several years she has been troubled with nausea which manifests itself only in sleeping hours. She is 55 and otherwise in good health.

She is basically a fearful sort of personality and is occasionally subject to dreams of violence. She cannot say whether such a dream precedes a bout of nausea, which last about 10 hours. — H.K.

This is a switch. Usually husbands rather than wives have to be coaxed, led, bullied or nagged to see the doctor.

Nausea in sleeping hours is unusual, the likeliest possibility being hiatal hernia. This tends to become troublesome when one is reclining for any length of time. (Distress also is likely to follow a large meal, or food taken just before retiring.)

If her violent dreams had anything to do with this, I suspect that she would have observed the connection. Her fear-sensitive nature, however, may have a lot to do with her refusal to go to the doctor. Reassuring her that the doctor may be able to help her, but in all likelihood will not find anything particularly wrong, may get her to consult a physician. (If the hiatal hernia suggestion happens to be valid X-rays will show it.)

Dear Dr. Molner: Is eye make-up (like eyebrow pencil, mascara, etc.) harmful? — R.E.

No, they are not harmful although (obviously) they may be irritating if they get in the eyes. As with any cosmetics, not to mention soap, pollen and all sorts of things, they may bother people who happen to be allergic to them, but pains are taken to keep these products as free from allergic substances as possible. Caution: Use your own eyebrow pencil and do not exchange it with others. Eye infection has been traced to using another's brow pencil.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it all right for diabetics to drink wine, and if so, what is the best kind? — MRS. S.J.

No, it's not all right for diabetics to drink wine, and the only "best kind" is none at all.

Pope given cross by Archbishop

Kiss of Peace Spans Centuries

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul and the Archbishop of Canterbury embraced in a kiss of peace Wednesday, marking a renewal of relations between the Anglican Church and the Vatican that were broken in 1534.

Their first brief encounter was in the Sistine Chapel. The Roman Catholic pontiff and Dr. Michael Ramsey later talked together for an hour and five minutes in the Pope's studio to discuss ways to bring their churches even closer.

"The world observes," Pope Paul told the archbishop as they sat side by side beneath the brooding magnificence of Michelangelo's frescoes. "History will remember."

The Pope told Dr. Ramsey his official visit rebuilds a bridge "which for centuries has lain fallen between the Church of Rome and the Church of Canterbury, a bridge of respect, of esteem and charity."

The archbishop said he had come to the Pope—whom he called "dear brother in Christ"—with a longing in his heart that their meeting would help realize the Christian unity dream.

Both, however, noted many barriers separated their churches.

STUDY SEEN

These include basic discords over papal infallibility, doctrine, validity of clerical ordination, aspects of mixed marriages and birth control.

It was widely thought out of their meeting would come a decision, possibly to be announced today at the close of the archbishop's visit, to set up a joint commission of experts from both churches to study what can be done to overcome these disagreements.

A minor protest continued to simmer.

Three Protestant leaders, who flew in from London Tuesday on the archbishop's commercial airliner, followed him about Rome to denounce his meeting with the Pope as a betrayal of Protestantism.

In St. Peter's, Roman Catholicism's largest church, the Anglican primate knelt with Paolo Cardinal Marella, Basilica archpriest, and prayed with him before three different altars.

One was the altar of Pope Gregory VIII, the Pope who sent St. Augustine to bring Catholicism to England in the 6th century. Augustine became the first Archbishop of Canterbury. Dr. Ramsey is the 100th.

BOUQUET

Dr. Ramsey descended to the grotto below St. Peter's. There, on the cold bare stone before the tomb of Pope John XXIII, Pope Paul's predecessor who proclaimed Christian unity as a major goal of the Catholic church in the modern world, he knelt to pray.

He left on the tomb a bouquet of geraniums with the inscription: "In grateful memory from Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury."

Dirty Deals vs Splittism

TOKYO (AP)—Peking loomed a new blast at Moscow Wednesday, accusing the Soviet Union of plotting with the United States to encircle China and to sell out the Vietnamese people. The Chinese denounced Russian "dirty deals," "tricks," and "chauvinism."

In a letter to Moscow broadcast by Radio Peking, the Chinese rejected an invitation to the Soviet Communist party congress in Moscow Tuesday in terms so harsh as to seem to bring the two countries closer to an open split. Albania, Pe-king's only ally in Europe, also brusquely declined to go, to Moscow.

The Chinese said the Russians distributed an anti-Chinese letter to world Communist parties recently and asked: "In these circumstances, how can the Chinese Communist party, which you look upon as an enemy, be expected to attend your congress?"

STIRRING INCIDENTS

The Russian letter, as published in West Germany this week, accused the Chinese of trying to involve the Soviet Union in a war with the United States, of stirring up incidents on the Russian border and blocking Soviet arms aid to North Viet Nam. The Russians said the Chinese had rejected united action to resist the U.S. in Viet Nam.

Peking answered with this counter-blast:

"Despite the tricks you have been playing to deceive people, you are pursuing U.S.-Soviet collaboration for the domination of the world with your whole heart and soul."

HOLY ALLIANCE

Peking charged Moscow with working with the United States "in a whole series of dirty deals inside and outside the United Nations in 'a holy alliance against China.'"

The Chinese then referred specifically to the "anti-Chinese letter to other parties," that Peking said was a circulated about the time the Russians were lavishing the Chinese Feb. 24 to the congress.

The charges of "adventurism," "splittism," "Trotskyism" together with one that "China has been encroaching on Soviet territory," all show that the Soviet invitation to the Moscow congress "is merely a gesture and is sent with ulterior motives," the Chinese said.

There was no reaction in Moscow to the stinging letter, which Peking said was sent Tuesday. But a Soviet press officer at the United Nations in New York said the Chinese refusal to attend the congress is "aimed at undermining the solidarity of peoples" struggling to maintain peace.

Diplomats in Moscow said the Chinese boycott of the congress puts North Viet Nam on the spot. North Viet Nam has tried to stay neutral in the Moscow-Peking ideological quarrel because it gets help from both sides.

When Alexander N. Shelepin, a Soviet party secretary, visited Hanoi in January the North Vietnamese accepted an invitation to the congress. Now they must decide on how many leaders can go without offending the Chinese.

Students

U.S., Ky 'Helping' Reds

SAIGON (AP)—Student demonstrators in the South Vietnamese cities of Hue and Da Nang criticized the United States Wednesday for supporting Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government. They contended backing Ky hinders revival of civilian rule.

"Is this a conspiracy to sell (South) Viet Nam to the Communists?" asked one of many leaflets at Da Nang, site of a U.S. air base and marine headquarters, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Similar banners marked an anti-government rally of 10,000 around the municipal hall in Hue, 40 miles further north. Hue was the springboard of the Buddhist-led uprising that toppled President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963.

Not all the banners were critical.

The stiffest war action in South Viet Nam was a fight between a battalion of South Vietnamese infantrymen and an enemy force in marshlands 39 miles west of Saigon.

Strike Move Authorized By Miners

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Mine Workers' national policy committee was given power Wednesday to call a U.S.-wide strike against soft coal producers. The last major strike was 17 years ago.

Before a strike is called, coal companies must be given 60 days notice that the contract is being cancelled.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTKETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTKETH at drug counters everywhere. Adv.

Dangerous Dilemma

WHETHER we like it or not, this country is being governed under sufferance by the nine Creditiste members in the House of Commons elected from Quebec constituencies.

Prime Minister Pearson can only control a majority with the support of these members whose votes, added to the Liberal representation of 130 — not counting Mr. Speaker — give him 139 more or less dependable tools with which to do the job required of Parliament.

Against him, providing the vote is on strictly party lines, the Conservatives, with 97 seats, and the New Democrats with 21, nine of them from British Columbia, can muster only 118. Even with support from the five Social Credit members from B.C. and Alberta, the Opposition cannot overcome the government. Two independent votes are paired.

But were the Liberals to lose the backing of those nine Creditistes on any want of confidence vote they obviously could not survive.

This is a price we pay to enjoy democratic government, and the hard-won representation by population which is a part of the system.

But such a situation as exists in the House of Commons today amounts to a denial of democracy, in the sense that this little group of Quebecois in effect can decide the fate of the nation.

Moreover, in the past few days there has developed in Ottawa another objectionable situation by which, as Colonel columnist Richard Jackson has made clear, a group of Quebec Liberals in the cabinet is in a position to dominate that body.

The situation seemingly results from an alignment of Quebec Liberals who threatened to follow the example of Mr. Lucien Cardin if the justice minister resigned over the Victor Spencer development when Prime Minister Pearson decided, against the advice and policy of Mr. Cardin, to hold a full inquiry in the affair of the alleged spy.

Such a revolt of Quebec members in his cabinet almost certainly would have toppled the prime minister, already precariously dependent on the whim of those nine Creditistes.

But it would have had disastrous repercussions throughout the whole Liberal hierarchy and created a disruption in the Quebec wing which could very well have taken years to rectify.

Mr. Pearson was very well aware of the danger; and it is therefore permissible to believe that he did indeed beg his justice minister to reconsider, as Mr. Jackson has conjectured.

The prime minister therefore faces a two-headed dilemma: possible domination of his cabinet by the Quebec group and the delicate balance preserved in the House of Commons by Creditiste support. This is neither a healthy nor acceptable position for the nation and a situation hardly supportable by any prime minister.

The Oil Report

DESPITE the tremendous effort put forward by the main petroleum companies in British Columbia to defend their method of distributing and selling gasoline, the royal commission looking into the matter appears to have found most of their submissions unacceptable.

Judge Charles W. Morrow has found in general that there is no justification for a wide difference in retail prices in various parts of the province.

This was the point which caused Mr. Cyril Sheldford, MLA for the northern riding of Okanagan, to press the government to appoint a royal commission in the first place.

In Judge Morrow's opinion, the hearings have proved that Mr. Sheldford's criticism was justified, although he must be on contentious grounds when he says that the bigger communities must be prepared to subsidize gasoline prices for their more remote fellow gasoline users.

In addition Judge Morrow finds that the five cents spread in the cost of regular and premium gasolines is too large and that it should be reduced to three cents.

He also disapproves the practice of consignment selling agreements with the service stations which he rejects as unfair practice, and he also does not think that the oil companies should give big discounts to big users which he says is at the expense of the public and the service station operators.

The report also recommends that if the oil companies are unable to comply with the findings in a reasonable time the government through one of its agencies should restore a system of regulated prices as it did in the 1940s under the Petroleum Sales Act, as well as operating an oil refinery of its own.

It is of course by no means certain that the government will accept all or any of Judge Morrow's recommendations, and there is no doubt that lobbying against the report by the oil companies will be intense.

It would be only fair to say that the report strikes at the very vitals of the oil industry's way of doing business, which despite grievances has given on the whole an efficient and capable service to the motorist.

Yet the oil industry failed to answer the one question which the commission most wanted to know. What is the cost of producing a gallon of gasoline? There is little doubt that the oil companies' evasion of this point put them tightly behind the eight ball of commission sympathy.

Why Not Answer?

IN the legislature this week three Sacred members sought to draw from the health minister some assurance of positive action with respect to the establishment of a treatment centre for emotionally disturbed and retarded children.

This was not the kind of question voiced by Opposition members patently for political reasons, but an earnest plea for humanitarian attention to a much needed aspect of human welfare.

And all it got was a studied silence or the type of evasive reply that runs round in circles and means nothing.

When the questioning became acute, according to press gallery report, the premier buttressed his minister or said to him: "Don't answer him. Don't answer."

Why should a minister of the crown not answer straight-forward questions when these are advanced with honest intent and in the public interest?

There is far too much of this negative reaction to questions, both here and at Ottawa, put to cabinet ministers on subjects that vitally concern the public. Governments are becoming increasingly arrogant in this respect, and forgetting they are the guardians of a public trust and answerable for all their acts of both commission and omission.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes, and ships,
and sealing wax...

By TOM TAYLOR

I GOT to pondering about criticism. Not the ordinary kind, even if the layman isn't to be despised. I mean the pro or near pro, those who specialize in specific fields.

Perhaps it was Liddell Hart who set me thinking, when I read of him taking the Churchillian war strategy apart. He is by reputation an expert in military criticism, albeit he never led either an army or a nation.

And 'twould be sheer perversity on my part that recalled he once numbered Lawrence of Arabia among the great military captains of history, alongside, if memory serves, such as Napoleon, Marlborough, Robert E. Lee, Poch. He is away over my head but I thought this strange.

Expertise can not, I'm afraid,
as Homer is said to have done.
But the odd lapse doesn't demean the professional critic per se, just the same. His is a function of worth. It might seem anomalous but often he may know more about a subject than the virtuoso who exemplifies it.

I have concluded this is how providence gives a fair shake to the favors it hands out. The performer creates or exhibits his skills, and the critic it is, if he knows his stuff, who has the gift of analysis and interpretation.

The actor, the artist, the games player, the maestro in any form, reveals his quality by instinctive reflection. He may study the techniques of his forte but it's his own essence that gives him stature.

When Caruso was asked to account for his vocal powers he said simply that he opened his mouth and let his voice come out. When that versatile sportsman Babe Ruth was questioned as to her golfing prowess she replied that she just loosened her girdle and let go.

It takes the professional analyst, the critic, to explain the why and whereof of such mastery.

There are examples — all around of that well-worn maxim — to each his own.
The giants of literature are not numbered among the well-known book critics or vice versa. The celebrated art connoisseurs are not found among the famous painters. The best hockey managers didn't necessarily shine as stars on the ice.

A great thespian can be a poor stage director. The historians of note didn't make the history they assess.

The artist in any realm may not know precisely how he does it, which is where the qualified critic comes in.

I have a friend in town, a retired master distiller, who doesn't touch a drop. But he need only wave a glassful across his nostrils to assay with exquisite quality of a whisky.

Thus it is, you see, that the virtues are nicely divided.

Still and all, don't be downhearted if your opinion doesn't coincide with the professional view. You don't wear clothes for decades without knowing something about dress, no matter your innerbeauty's ideas.

The theatrical fan sitting in "the gods" or the sports supporter in arena or stadium is not, as I said of the layman in general, to be despised.

But that's how it is; the artist and the critic are two of a kind, only gifted in separate ways.

Mr. Pearson's Reticent Retinue

WHEN, like the storied Tiger, Gerda Munniger was burning bright in the fire of the Commons, there WERE lighter moments.

And thank goodness for that.
Get this scene.

Another of those emergency cabinet conferences is breaking up.

Prime Minister Pearson and his ministers, lifting the siege that press, radio and television had clamped on them outside the doors of the cabinet Centre Block conference room, are rushing the gauntlet of reportorial interference to the privacy of their offices where they will be reasonably safe behind the protection of secretaries and executive assistants.

The prime minister, beneficiary of some remarkable psychological chemistry, is ambling leisurely along, smiling amiably, just as if this were just another day and the word crisis hadn't been invented yet.

But you quickly spot that while he may be laughing on the outside he very probably is crying on the inside.

And what matters, what really counts, is that he isn't answering questions.

So who to pump for the dope you seem to be losing your sense of proportion. Do please let me assist you in trying to straighten out your thinking as amiable, always obliging "Oom
you may better assess things as Paul" of the long friendship years?

So you break off from the peck elbowing for question room around the prime minister who leaves moving, and who, it already is obvious, is going to reach the haven of his office before giving anything away.

tin's scent, house-dogging him along the long marble corridors of the rambling Centre Block until he's around a corner and safely out of sight and sound of the prime minister and the frustrated reporter's retinue.

And so in relative quiet and privacy you slide up to "Oom Paul," who has been taking his unsubdued and unbuttoned time, touch him lightly on the elbow and address him thus:

"Say, Chief," (he likes to be called "Chief," what's going on?)

He swings around looking over his shoulder and in beaming innocence counter-questions with the alacrity he can summon.

"You know, of course, about the war in Viet Nam?"

That sort of stop you could but only for a fleeting second, and you admonish him gently:

"Never mind the war in Viet Nam. What about the war in Ottawa?"

With a mockingly and talking, as if sympathizing with a backward student, he counsels:

"Son, it distresses me that you seem to be losing your sense of proportion. Do please let me assist you in trying to straighten out your thinking as
amiable, always obliging "Oom

So you grin and bear it, and
"Oom Paul," his cabinet secretary kept, slides into his office.

But not before murmuring a

New Trend in Politics

Communists Seek Alliances With West European Leftists

By MARK FRANKLAND

FUTURE elections in West Europe are likely to be marked by increasing Communist Party attempts to form electoral alliances, and even Popular Fronts, with the parties of the non-Communist Left.

The most thorough effort to achieve Left-wing unity is being made in France, where last attended by leading Communists and M. Francois Mitterrand, the United Left's candidate against General de Gaulle in the presidential elections of last December, got down to discuss the basic issues which divide Marxists and non-Marxist socialists.

Even the British Communist Party, for all its past bad relations with the Labor Party (now forming the British government), committed itself at its Congress last November to a "broad militant alliance" with

This Popular Front movement has developed only painfully since the Russians gave it a green light at the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist Party in 1956. It has been accompanied by a new Soviet understanding that Western Communist parties must be responsible to purely national demands, including the possibility that Communism can be achieved peacefully by parliamentary means. The Soviet Union has continued to encourage this development and has been particularly interested in the possibility in France.

But, as was the case with much of the 20th Soviet Party Congress, it is unlikely that the Russians had worked out the full implications of the Popular other political parties, and democratic freedoms in particular, would be tolerated under French Communism.

These and similar questions have always made agreement between Communists and Social Democrats impossible in the past. If the French Communist Party, the second most powerful in Western Europe after the Italian, could go some way towards altering Communist dogma on these points, the effect could be considerable. It would mean in effect, that West European Communism would enter a quite different world from that inhabited by the East Europeans, let alone the Russians.

All this is a matter for the long term. In the short term even the main worry of Communists — the Sino-Soviet quarrel — will probably speed this development. When the West European Communist leaders go to Moscow for the 23rd Soviet Party Congress at the end of this month they will be very conscious of the Russians' need for their support.
This is a situation which must give confidence to those Western Communist leaders intent on experimenting with their parties at home.

THE emotional response by France's partners in the Atlantic alliance to the "Yankee (and Canadians) go home" call by President de Gaulle must have caused great delight in Moscow.

For de Gaulle's obviously patent demand to oust all foreign controlled military bases from French soil creates no real threat to NATO. What could damage the alliance is the rumor made by Britain and some other countries in the 15-nation organization.

There have been no foreign nuclear weapons in France, whose own long-range ballistic missiles are capable of responding to any Soviet attack on her borders. And since NATO is based on the principle of nuclear retaliation in any major European military conflict, the withdrawal of foreign bases here would make little difference in strategic terms.

But Britain — where it was only a few hours ago — appears to make the issue into a question of life and death for the West. Michael Stewart, the usually cool and reserved British foreign secretary, has publicly branded General de Gaulle's move as a strike "at the whole integrated system of defence on which the security of the West and the freedom of mankind depend."

One wonders whether he really believes that.

Nearly 20 years have passed since the formation of NATO, during which the strategic map of the world has significantly altered — without corresponding changes in the alliance.
Military developments in Viet Nam, Laos, India, Korea and elsewhere point to new threats in the Far East, while futile conferences and the absence of real danger have reduced NATO to a gentlemen's discussion society.

These years have transformed
China into a nuclear power

West's Security Held Endangered

By THOMAS LAND from Paris

It could well be argued that any European involvement in Viet Nam or elsewhere in the Far East would result from the fact of the alliance itself, rather than from the maintenance of foreign bases in this country.

Gen. de Gaulle's nationalistic inspired intention to rid France of foreign bases therefore appears largely irrelevant to the Viet Nam war. Nor is it really a threat to NATO. However, a policy of mistrust by the other 14 NATO members in response to the general's move could pull the alliance apart.

De Gaulle says he has no intention of destroying NATO.
He merely wants the U.S.,
Canadian and remaining German bases here either removed or placed under French command.

His vision of the NATO of tomorrow appears to be a loose association of equal partners (some, including France, in-doubtably more "equal" than others), ready to come to each other's rescue in the face of danger which is not now likely to arise.

Such an association could, indeed, form a basis for viable European defence. It could also release funds not invested in the over-fortification of Europe for fighting wars much more real and immediate, and potentially much more dangerous, than the one against which NATO stands in readiness.

One such war is the fight against hunger in the developing world.

Chief Poto Quits

By STANLEY UYS from Cape Town

Transkei Crisis

WITH the retirement of the 69-year-old paramount chief, Victor Poto, as its leader — and the arrest of five of its representatives in the Transkei legislative assembly on a charge of alleged conspiracy to murder — the opposition Democratic Party in the Transkei has suffered two serious setbacks.

The Transkei is the first Bantustan or potentially self-governing state to be created in South Africa by Dr. Verwoerd in terms of his "separate development" policy for the black people.

Chief Poto has retired because of ill-health. A successor will be elected at the party's national congress on April 2 and 3, but it is not yet clear whether it will be another traditional chief (70 per cent of the voters in the Transkei are illiterate tribesmen) or the party's brilliant lawyer-chairman, Knowledge Guzina.

The five Democratic Party members of the legislative assembly who are being held were arrested on February 22.
A pro-government newspaper has alleged that there was a plot to murder Chief Kaiser Mantanzima, the pro-apartheid chief minister of the Transkei.
The newspaper suggested that £250 was being offered to anyone who would carry out the assassination.

The Democratic Party expressed its "great concern" at the arrests, but declined to make further comment because the matter is sub judice.

Meanwhile, both the Democratic Party and the Transkei National Independence Party have their troubles over the question of independence for the territory.
Chief Mantanzima denied last week that he had asked for independence, but courted the followers, including his chief wife, have already demanded independence publicly and they wish to introduce a motion at the next session of the Transkei legislative assembly formally requesting independence.

Dr. Verwoerd adamantly has promised the Transkei its independence, but only when he thinks it is ready for it. And according to a government party candidate in the present general election, this will not be for another 20 years.

If the Transkei were to insist on its independence now, this would seriously embarrass Dr.
Verwoerd because the Opposition United Party in the South African parliament is making great play of the danger to the whites implicit in the "Bantustization" of the country. Chief Mantanzima obviously is also embarrassed and it is suggested that to appease the militants in his party's ranks he will make independence the main issue in the 1968 elections for the Transkei legislative assembly.

This, in turn, would embarrass the Opposition Democratic Party, which is usually opposed to any break with South Africa and visualizes a multi-racial country.

Internal Red Ferment Now in Open

By LAJOS LEDERER
From London

The struggle between traditionally dogmatic functionaries of the Communist Party and liberal Marxist intellectuals in Eastern Europe has come to a head. It follows the introduction of economic reforms — vital to their survival — in a number of East European countries, notably Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, which has split the Communist leadership from top to bottom.

The major obstacle to economic reforms appears to be a strong resistance by new-Stalinists inside the Communist parties, who are still influential enough to hamper the implementation of reforms decided by the leadership.

This is revealed by an eminent Yugoslav professor of philosophy, Dr. Rudi Supek, of the University of Zagreb (capital of Croatia).

Dr. Supek, who is an unofficial spokesman for the new generation of Communist intellectuals in Yugoslavia, points out that "there can be no real liberalization of the Communist economy until Stalinist dogmatism is abolished."

Dr. Supek argues that the Communist Party apparatus in Eastern Europe is in the hands of "retrograde, dogmatic heads" who still believe that "the man at the top knows all, and most of all, knows best."

These men he argues — in the monthly philosophical journal

Praxis — do not believe that anything has changed in the last 50 years since the Soviets first came to power. Stalinism had "fully paralyzed their thinking processes."

"The men, he says, have moved up 'from peasant rage to limousines' and have no real interest in humanist problems of socialism."

This denunciation of the conservative wing of the Communist parties in Eastern Europe, and especially Yugoslavia, is significant, because it is backed by the editorial board of Praxis, the official journal of the Croatian Philosophical Association.

This highly influential body represents the new generation of the "angry young professors" of economics, technology, philosophy and modern Marxist ideology, some of whom have attended schools in the West instead of in the Soviet Union.

The fact that the Belgrade monthly Gledista — the official organ of the Belgrade University party organization — is expressing similar sharp views must be disquieting to the regime. It brings into the open a clash between the new generation who have been educated since the war and the old generation who earned world respect and admiration as partisans during the war.

But this clash of generations is fully recognized by the Yugoslav leadership.

President Tito bluntly spoke of the class struggle which is raging in Yugoslavia to a plenary session of the Yugoslav Central Committee last week-end.

He said it was not a conventional struggle. The class enemy "has been divested of power, but has not physically disappeared," Tito said. "He has connections with all possible types of class enemy abroad and has their support."

He said that the danger these class enemies constitute has now been recognized and the struggle against them has been launched "but not by means of administrative measures or as a witch hunt."

Reactionaries abroad, Tito said, "rejoice at our difficulties" and impute various things to us, which are not at all correct.

The fact that Tito is able to criticize the weaknesses of his regime proves that he himself is in a strong position.

Russia Sets Showdown

Red Rift Widens

By BEN BASSETT

Soviet leaders have laid down a challenge to China which can only mean that the breach between the Communist powers will widen at the 23rd congress of the Soviet Communist party opening next Tuesday in Moscow.

The U.S.S.R. says a chief aim of China's policy on Viet Nam is to prolong fighting and to provoke a war between the Soviet Union and the United States.

As the Russians but it:

Nonetheless, says the letter, the Soviet Union last year supplied North Viet Nam about 500,000,000 rubles ($555,000,000) worth of arms and military equipment including rocket bases, anti-aircraft weapons, planes, tanks, coastal artillery and war vessels.

The letter continues: "It is being suggested to the Chinese people that the Soviet Union is one of their main enemies... that it is necessary to prepare for a military conflict with the U.S.S.R."

It asserts that the Chinese have increasingly provoked conflicts on the border between China and the Soviet Union.

The Soviet letter thus accuses China doubly on the score of warmongering — saying Peking wants the Soviet Union and the United States in conflict, and is raising the possibility of Soviet-Chinese fighting.

This is a package the Soviet party congress next week will undoubtedly attack repeatedly in an effort to make the Chinese pariah in the Communist world.

'Auntie Americanism'

Heath Makes Capital From U.K.'s Hurt Pride

By GENE SHERMAN
From Cardiff, Wales

Deep in this mining country where children are taught the facts of socialism at their father's knee, Conservative leader Edward Heath tested British reaction to U.S. influence and confirmed a significant election theme.

Turning away from issues purely relevant to South Wales he catalogued the failures of Prime Minister Harold Wilson in his most impassioned speech of the campaign thus far.

The Labor government, he said, is damaging the interests of the country as a whole by facing both ways on Europe.

Its conduct of foreign affairs has been disastrous, he charged. Then he added: "Mr. Wilson's relations with the United States have become relations of dependence. Never has Britain been as dependent on the United States."

That statement unleashed the loudest and longest roar of applause from the 2,000 Tory supporters whose partisan approval never flagged all evening. A foreign observer could not escape the impression that it vented a pent-up, if polite, feeling of national frustration.

As the campaign gains momentum toward the March 31 national election, the question of Britain joining the European Common Market (Euromart) is becoming the key foreign affairs issue.

With this context candidates and commentators are now discussing, as never before the need for Britain to choose between the United States and Europe.

That, of course, is oversimplifying the problem. It should not imply that anti-Americanism has become a campaign issue.

But coming in the wake of massive U.S. support for the pound sterling, the purchase of F-111 jet fighters at the expense of a British aircraft carrier and other less dramatic examples of direct "Americanization," the election offers a chance for airing the anxiety.

Perhaps the feelings that surface can be called better feelings of a restless but circumscribed nephew tied to his rich, kind aunt's apron strings.

Nevertheless, Euromart has come alive as a campaign issue and with it the British dependence on the United States as something to be shed in favor of Europe.

An example of the kind of comment and thinking this has brought out is contained in the leading editorial of the current Spectator, a conservative-oriented weekly. It said in part:

"... The right attitude for Britain is clear. So far from regarding De Gaulle as the devil incarnate, we should welcome a loosening of the structure of the alliance."

"Nothing is more important for Britain than that she should escape from the suffocating bonds of the unequal Anglo-American special relationship and seek as a leading member of a unified Europe, to regain her independence and her self-respect."

"So long as we are determined to play deputy world sheriff to the United States, on borrowed equipment financed by borrowed money; so long as we are unwilling to treat the pound as a sovereign currency instead of a shorthand way of referring to $2.80; so long will we remain economically weak and politically impotent—a frustrated satellite of a great nation that no longer needs us."

Wall Guards Nab Fugitive

BERLIN (UPI) — East German border guards captured a young man attempting to flee to West Berlin Tuesday night, it was reported. The man was said to be slightly wounded by a burst of submachine gun fire as he approached the barbed wire fronting the wall. He was led away by two guards.

Election Verdict: March 31

Heath, who led Britain's abortive attempt to enter Euromart, seems to have gained campaign stature by grasping the issue firmly and running with it. He's on knowledgeable ground.

When a hecker in his own constituency, Bexley, in Kent, tried to stop him from raising the issue, he shouted back: "I know more about Europe than you or anyone else in the Labor Party, including Mr. Wilson."

The Conservatives, as well as the third-party Liberals, stress association with Europe as partners while maintaining an alliance with the United States. Heath says he would join Euromart "at the first favorable opportunity."

For the doctrinaire Socialists of the Labor Party, membership in the EEC with its provisions for trade and capital exchanges means a free enterprise basis, means a constitution—or, in another sense, disbursement—of planned socialism.

Once strictly opposed to the move, Wilson has varied his stance on Euromart since becoming prime minister. He has declared his willingness to go in provided the conditions laid down by Hugh Gaitskell, the late Labor Party leader, are met.

These consist of trade safeguards for the Commonwealth countries and Britain's partners in the European Free Trade Association, guarantees for British agriculture and the right to plan Britain's own economy and foreign policy.

Wilson's political party is to the effect that Heath is too eager while he is willing but cautious.

Regardless of which government wins the election—and it looks foregone to Labor—the question of Common Market entry must be faced.

A strong indication of the changing mood resulted from a survey by the United Kingdom Council of the European Movement shortly before dissolution of the last parliament. A total of 316 members of the House of Commons, including 178 Conservatives, 132 Laborites and six Liberals, favored joining Euromart.

White Supremacy Issue Dominates Everything

By FRANK GILES
From Johannesburg

Barring a miracle, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's ruling Nationalist Party is going to increase its already large majority when South Africa goes to the polls on March 30, despite the efforts of the opposition, the United Party, to prove that it can do better at keeping South Africa white.

Both the main parties are playing up in different ways, the theme of white supremacy. Vote Nationalist, says the United Party and you are voting for the government's Bantustan policy.

Despite the fact that only one Bantustan has so far been created and is a long way from being independent, the policy, according to the UP, will inevitably lead to fragmentation of the country into eight potential Congos, each a probable hotbed of Communist intrigue, infiltration and aggression.

Caught thus in the unexpected role of betraying the interests of the white race, the Nationalists have responded with a similar broadside.

The UP proposed to bring the 1,500,000 Cape Colored back to the electoral roll and to

Election Verdict: March 30

Introduce eight white PM's into parliament to defend the interests of the 12,500,000 Bantus.

Not, one would have thought a policy of total abolition. Yet the Nationalist claim that to vote for the UP is to open the floodgates, to spell the doom of the white race.

Rhodesia is also an issue. Nearly all white South Africans think that the Rhodesian prime minister, Ian Smith is a hero who should be afforded every form of aid and comfort. None feels this more strongly than those of British stock.

These people are traditional supporters of the UP. Seeking to steel a march on the Nationalist, the United Party here has accused the Verwoerd government of not doing enough to support the cause of white supremacy in Rhodesia.

But Verwoerd has not allowed himself to be out-gambitted. The UP has little chance, even among English speakers, of puncturing his father-image. Smith may well have completed the process, already far advanced, of welding English and Afrikaner into one white grouping.

Pentagon Calls It 'Nuclear Theology'

By CHARLES McCABE

So far removed from reality is the Pentagon's jargon of destruction that it has prompted some to speak of nuclear theology.

We know about some of the weasel words the Pentagon uses about non-nuclear fighting in Viet Nam. Nobody fires a shell. They "undertake interdiction." The thing in Viet Nam is not a war. It is an "advisory intervention." Etc., etc.

I am a student of non-language, and especially a lover of Pentagonese. I believe that price capable of any degrading of language. But even I had some difficulty in believing the latest of the euphemisms. I am assured they are Pentagonese. They refer, naturally, to the ultimate catastrophe.

"Taking out Leningrad" is the precise term for the total destruction of a city of nearly 3,500,000 people by an atom bomb.

What, then, is the term for taking out Leningrad or Moscow, when the Russians by the same token take out New York or Chicago or San Francisco?

The answer to this one is masterly. It is called "exchanging populations."

What a perfectly fearful freight of guilt must lie heavily on the minds of people who are capable of calling the total extermination of cities by bombs "an exchange of populations!" And there is the whole concept of "humane thermonuclear doctrine." These are summed up in the McNamara doctrine of "controlled response," "counter-force," and "second strike."

Controlled response, as near as I can construe it, is to refrain from the automatic bombing of cities in a nuclear war. Counter-force seems to be a force of rockets aimed, not at cities, but at the rockets and the bombers of the enemy.

The second strike thing is more complicated. It is an advisory to the enemy to do his nuclear damndest, to go after all our cities and most precious installations. This done, and we will really let him have it.

If the whole thing seems beyond belief, it is because it is. No?

I think the kind of people who think up this sort of jargon should be immediately sent to sub-Heaven, as they doubtless would call Hell.

Quotable Quotes

It would be a queer thing to hold an election now. I suppose you would call it the Goldilocks election—who has been sleeping in my bed?—NDF leader T. C. Douglas.

I love the United States. But I believe in Britain and Europe. I believe in partnership and not in being a satellite.—Edward Heath, British Conservative leader.

Inter-Racial Ban Nearer Repeal

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Maryland Senate Tuesday night by a vote of 18 to 11 approved repeal of the state's 305-year-old law prohibiting inter-racial marriages. The question now goes before the House of Delegates.

A Maryland law banning marriages between whites and Negroes has been in existence since 1661. It was broadened in the 1930s to include Malaysians and recently a white Baltimore girl was denied permission to marry a Samoan.

Johnson Warns de Gaulle

War Lesson Not Learned

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson vowed Wednesday that NATO will survive without France and warned Gen. de Gaulle that he was endangering his country's security by withdrawing from Allied military arrangements.

For Priests

Celibacy Study Urged

NEW YORK (AP)—America's Jesuit weekly journal, has called upon Roman Catholic bishops in the United States to authorize a "reliable and impartial study" on whether priests should be allowed to marry.

In an editorial in its current issue, it notes that several articles on the controversial issue have appeared recently in the secular press.

The editorial cites one in the Saturday Evening Post entitled, "I am a Priest, I want to Marry."

The Jesuit publication describes the article as "emotional," adding:

"It has become quite clear in recent weeks that priestly celibacy is now permanently and prominently on the list of church questions judged suitable for impassioned reporting and discussion in the secular press."

"A real danger exists," it continues, "that the tradition of priestly celibacy will be undermined for lack of careful and sustained treatment by the religious press generally."

'V-P Tepee' Wins Tight Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A ground-breaking ceremony would still be premature, but an official residence for the vice-president — dubbed the "V-P's Tepee" by irreverent Republicans — is a shaky step nearer reality.

On a precarious 197-184 vote Tuesday, Democratic leaders pushed through the House a bill authorizing a $750,000 "junior White House" to be built on a 10-acre Naval Observatory site near the capital's embassy row.

The bill conflicted with one passed by the Senate last year to set up a commission and supply it with $1,000,000 to build or buy a mansion. The differences must be reconciled.

In a wide-ranging debate, Republican leaders attacked the bill as a symbol of unnecessary spending in time of war.

House GOP leader Gerald Ford, Mich., said it would be "foolhardy" at a time when housing for servicemen was short. Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said it would become a costly "entertainment palace."

The bill's manager, Rep. Kenneth J. Gray, D-Ill., replied that the proposal was prudent and pressing at a time when the vice-president had more duties than ever, particularly as an official host.

God Idea Dying Says Anglican

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 44-year-old Anglican minister says the concept of God in religion has played itself out as a social and cultural phenomenon and "could be coming to an end."

Rev. William Nicholls, head of the University of British Columbia's religious studies department, told 200 university students there is a new wave of religious theology cutting across church dogma based on the proposition that "God is dead."

He said he numbers himself among those connected with the new theology, and believes it will inject a new spirit of free thought in organized religion.

"INTELLIGENT"

"God is not necessary," he said. "All sciences — including religious studies — proceed without the hypothesis of God. If knowledge can exist without God, so can life."

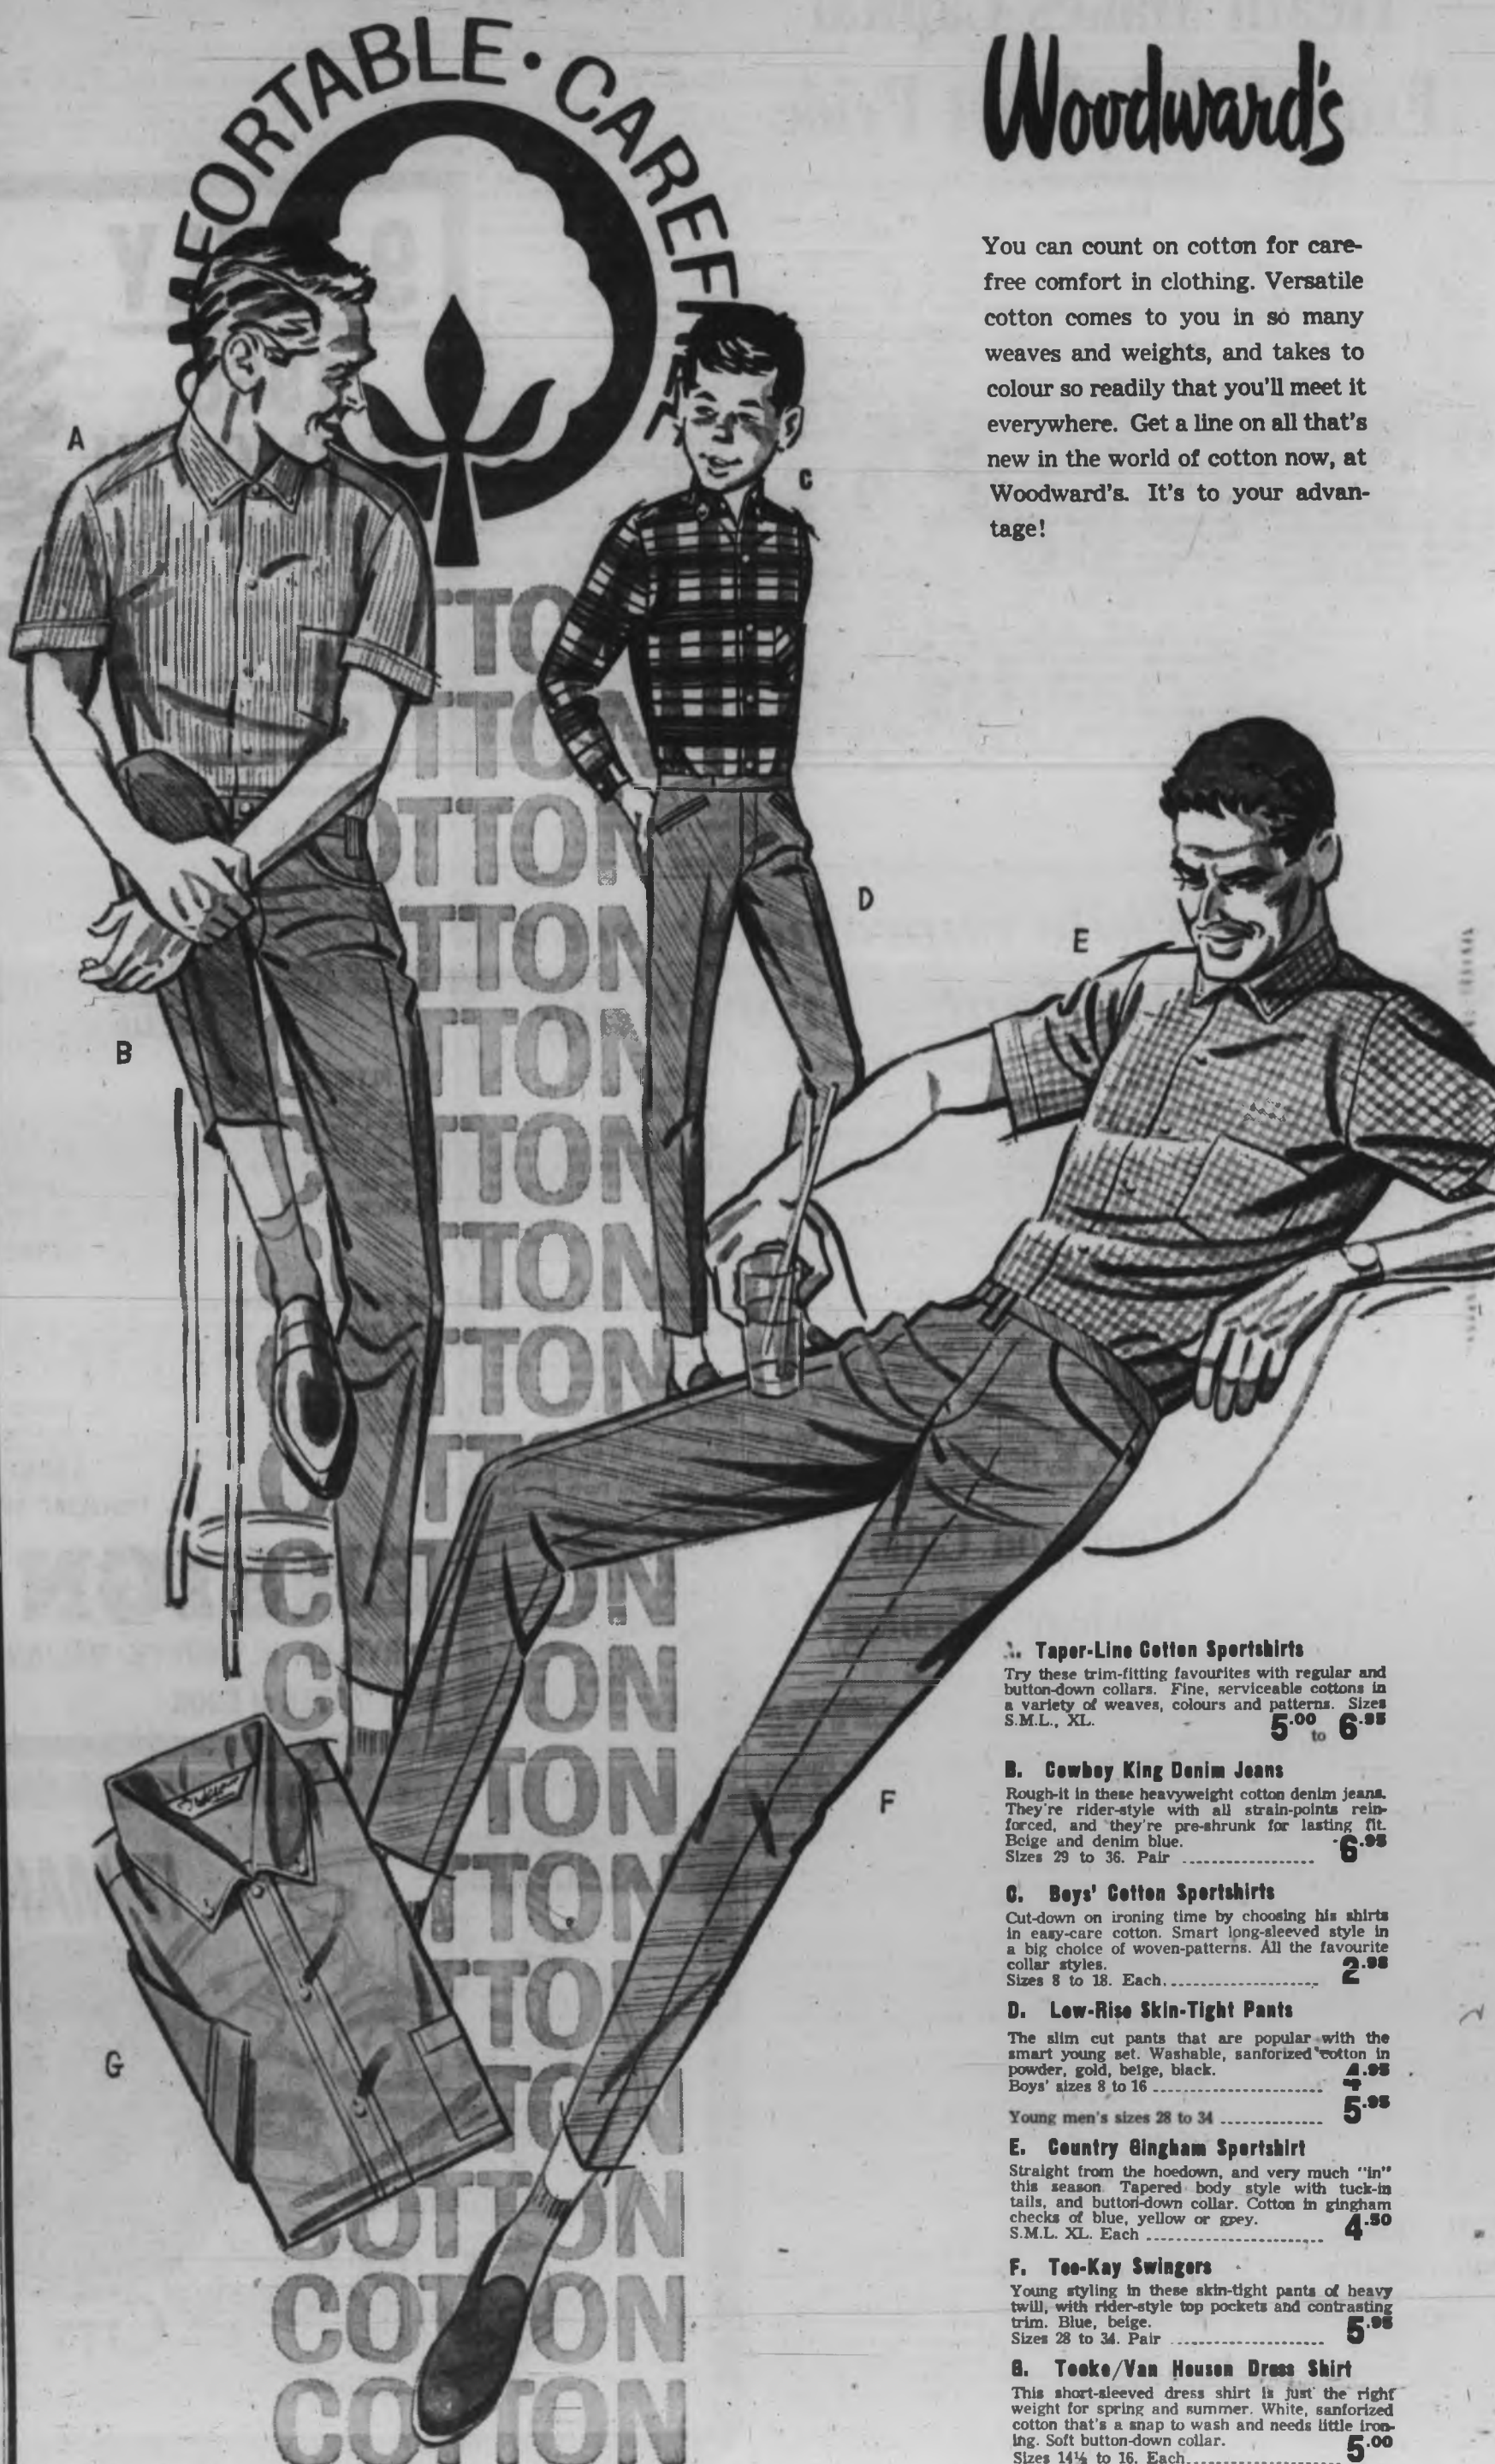

Rev. Nicholls said death-of-God theology represents an intelligent alternative to Christians who "cannot abide by the contradictions" inherent in the religion presently taught by churches.

Grants totalling approximately $100,000 were supported and recommended to its members by the Greater Victoria Inter-municipal Committee Wednesday.

In most instances it was agreed that grants would be shared on a long-standing inter-municipal sharing formula worked out on a population-assessment basis.

In several specific cases, however, where municipalities felt they had a particular interest, they agreed to assume a heavier share of the cost than demanded by the formula.

On a percentage basis the formula is: Victoria, 41.2, Saanich, 35.4, Oak Bay, 14.2, Esquimalt, 9.1.

In the case of the annual payment to the Victoria Visitors Bureau, contributions will be given on an individual basis, as in 1965, when Victoria gave $50,000, Saanich, $3,000, Oak Bay, $1,500 and Esquimalt, $300.

"Is it not true that the tourist industry is suffering from a lack of interest on the part of the business community?" asked Reeve Hugh Curtis of Saanich.

If fund raising was an indication, replied Coun. F. W. Hawes, of Oak Bay, the bureau was just about holding its own in this regard.

Business contributions remained steady at about $16,000. The Junior Chamber of Commerce got short shrift when it asked either $500 or $250 as a contribution towards entertainment at a B.C. Jaycee convention to be held here in June.

New Buildings Blossom

"We've turned down organizations a lot less able to pay their way than the Jaycees. I just can't see it," said Oak Bay Reeve Allan Cox.

The YM-YWCA asked a grant of $29,877 in lieu of tax exemption and got $15,000.

The whole question of organizations receiving grants to pay their taxes should be looked into, said Reeve Cox.

Modest amounts were required and then suddenly the groups, such as the Y and Goodwill Enterprises, blossomed out with new buildings and expanded facilities and the grants were expected to grow accordingly.

Goodwill Enterprises, which received grants of $2,150 in lieu of tax exemption in 1965, will receive $6,000 this year.

One grant which swam through without a discouraging word was that for the Victoria Art Gallery. Without demur municipal representatives agreed to share the sum of $10,000 on an inter-municipal basis. Mayor Toome told delegates that the annual convention of the Canadian Confederation of Mayors and Municipalities was being planned for Vancouver and that a Victoria visit was on the schedule.

When the 150-odd municipal leaders visit the capital on June 10 they will be given luncheon and a tour of the area.

The Victoria Symphony Society request for $5,540, on a basis of a five-cents-per-capita grant, was cut down to $5,000.

The per capita idea was rejected by the committee.

Men's Club Elects Clark

James Clark has been elected president of the Y's Men's Club of Victoria for the next year.

John Duncan and Jack Fawcett were elected vice-presidents, Kenneth Perry, secretary and Clifford Joyce, treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors for a two-year term were Wallace Fletcher, Les Newell and Murdoch Pace.

Prices Slide

Wiping Out Recent Gains

TORONTO (CP) — Industrial stocks took it on the chin as sliding prices wiped out most of Tuesday's gains.

The downswing, spurred by heavy selling, wiped the Toronto Stock Exchange's five-day rally.

Banks led the decline with Nova Scotia off 1/2 to 69, Royal 1/2 to 73 1/2, Montreal 1/2 to 60 1/2, and Toronto-Dominion 1/2 to 61 1/2.

Canada Cement lost 1/2 to 42, Aluminum and Dominion Bridge 1/2 to 38 1/2 and 25, Bell Telephone and Bell Canada 1/2 to 55 1/2 and 37 1/2.

Western oils were the only major group to advance. Hudson's Bay Oil added 1/2 to 20 1/2, Canadian Industrial Gas and Oil 1/2 to 11 1/2, Canadian Superior and Pacific Petroleum 1/2 to 12 1/2 and 12, and Chertina 60 cents to 9.50.

Pine Point dropped 1/2 to 59 in base metal activity. Hudson Bay Mining lost 1/2 to 8 1/2, Denison and Royal Algon 1/2 to 40 1/2 and 19 1/2, and Campbell Oshagan 40 cents to 7.70.

Lornex Rises Again

VANCOUVER — Lornex at a new high of 6.15 and Silver Standard at 1.45 led best in the mining group. Most others followed lower with speculations.

Rodstrom, Patricia Silver and Thuron losing ground to 1.63 among oils which were also depressed. Okanagan Helicopters was higher at 3.25 but Westcoast sold 50 cents to 2.65.

Metals Move Lower

MONTREAL (CP) — Stocks moved lower over a broad front.

Senior groups led a section fractionally lower in light trading. Consolidated led 1/2 to 39 and Abitibi 1/2 to 32, Dominion and Price Bros. eased 1/2 to 19 1/2 and 45 1/2, Bell fell 1/2 to 55 1/2, and CPR 1/2 to 62 1/2.

Senior metals moved lower. Hudson Bay Mining eased 1/2 to 8 1/2, and Chertina 60 cents to 9.50. Mining and Smelting 1/2 to 43 1/2, and the primary industry.

Algonia slipped 1/2 to 64 1/2, and Dominion Bridge 1/2 to 25 1/2. Senior oils moved lower. B-A and Imperial declined 1/2 to 39 1/2 and 52 1/2.

Speculative mines and oils were off. Peace River dropped 1/2 to 25 cents to 28.90 and Phoenix Canadian 10 cents to 33.25.

Motors-Steels Weak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market ended its string of five straight advances by declining today.

The trend was lower among motors, steels, oils, chemicals, rails, tobacco, rubbers and electronics. Airlines, drugs and aerospace issues presented a mixed pattern.

The outstanding feature of the session was heavy trading in three low-priced stocks which topped the most-active list, Benguet, A. J. Industries and Lionel.

Benguet was the most active stock, rising 1/2 to 75.60 shares. No particular news was connected with the action.

Plywood Up in U.S.

By HARRY YOUNG

Business Editor

Plywood and lumber prices are rising sharply in the U.S., according to industry sources in Tacoma.

Sweep Winners

Luck Brings $1,400,595

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A couple who believed their horse was scratched and a woman whose welfare payments stopped two months ago were among prize winners as Canadians rang up a total of $1,400,595 Tuesday in Irish sweepstakes money.

Islanders Get $7,938

Four Victorians and two up-Island residents had tickets drawn for the sweepstakes but none of them drew horses. They will receive $1,323 each for having their tickets drawn.

Cobalt Tumble Harmless

WINNIPEG (CP) — A lead-shielded container, weighing four tons and holding radioactive cobalt 60, tipped and fell Tuesday while it was being unloaded from a baggage car at a railway express depot here.

But, Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd. said Wednesday in a press release on the mishap, no harm was done.

"It was found that there was no damage to the radioactive source and there was no leakage of radiation," AECL said.

It said the wooden crate in which the flask was packaged was damaged and that some of the electrical fixtures in the flask will require repair.

B.C. Offers To Share Freeway Aid

Premier Bennett told the legislature Wednesday the provincial government will pay one-third the cost of freeways through Vancouver if the federal and city governments shared the rest.

Saying his offer is based on each government paying one-third the construction costs, he explained later that Vancouver must take the initiative with the federal government.

Bandit Gang Kills Villagers

NEW DELHI (AP) — A bandit gang shot and killed eight villagers in two raids about 100 miles southeast of New Delhi, reports reaching the capital said. Police said the bandits apparently had been hired by one village faction embroiled in a long feud with another group.

Just One of Those Days

SAN FRANCISCO — Ronald Minkler, 31, who operates the ticket-taking booth at the children's playground in Golden Gate Park, told police that a well-dressed man flashed a revolver and demanded all the money in the booth.

When Minkler explained that the booth contained no money, the gunman demanded his wallet. It also contained no money.

Minkler said the disgusted bandit threw the wallet to the ground and peddled away on a red bicycle.

LONDON — Actress Patricia Neal was near tears as she accepted from France's Leleux Carve a British Film Academy award for her work in the film "In Harm's Way." Miss Neal recently had a child after suffering a near-fatal stroke.

MILAN, Mich. — Officials hope Joseph Valachi, 61, convicted murderer and narcotics peddler, will be safe in his maximum-security cell at the federal prison here. He has an entire floor to himself as protection against possible revenge by the Cosa Nostra, against whom he testified in Washington.

KATHMANDU, Nepal — The Nepalese government has given permission to Sir Edmund Hillary, who conquered Mount Everest in 1953, to build a six-bed hospital at a 9,500-foot-high village near the famous mountain. The hospital will be staffed by a New Zealand doctor and two nurses.

ST. LOUIS — Boy Master, 40, a one-man opposition ticket, declared his candidacy for mayor, marshal, police judge and collector in the suburban town of New Madrid. His wife, Marie, declared her candidacy for alderman.

PALMERSTON NORTH, N.Z. — Mayor Harry Veiner, 63, of Medicine Hat, Alta., will compete against G. M. Rennie, mayor of Palmerston North, and M. B. Short, mayor of nearby Fielding, to raise funds at a carnival to raise funds for the local university.

PUEBLO, Colo. — Mrs. Robert Harvey went from the frying pan to the fire, but her kitchen went to the flames. While she watched rural firemen put out a nearby haystack fire, Mrs. Harvey noticed smoke pouring from her house. She had forgotten a pan of grease on the stove, which boiled over and set her kitchen afire.

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Samuel Yorty has put in his public bid to become "President Johnson's man" in California.

"It's my opinion the president would be very happy if I were governor of California," the mayor told his weekly news conference.

VANCOUVER — Grade 10 student Peter Speers, 16, may return to school, but won't be the same. Suspended for refusing to get a haircut, he was finally permitted to return—but must work alone in a private room and write his examinations in isolation.

McMorran Gives Way

VANCOUVER (CP) — City prosecutor Stewart McMorran has abandoned his practice of relaying mislay traffic charges once they have been dismissed by a magistrate.

The prosecutor said Wednesday he has entered a stay of proceedings on all outstanding charges that had been relayed.

A statement last week from Mr. McMorran that magistrates were dismissing such charges on flimsy grounds caused eight of the 18 magistrates to issue a statement telling the prosecutor he was no longer welcome in their courts.

Attorney-General Bonner ordered Mr. McMorran to cease the practice.

Nova Scotia Approves Free-Trade Region

HALIFAX (UPI) — The Nova Scotia legislature Wednesday voted 39-3 on a proposal to be placed before the government of Canada for a free trade agreement between the Atlantic provinces and the New England states.

The proposal introduced to the assembly last week was debated Wednesday and the three dissenting votes were registered by the opposition—the fourth and only other member of the Liberal opposition in the House was absent.

The suggestion of the free trade agreement was presented as a private member's proposal by James H. Vaughan, member of the legislative assembly for the riding of Halifax-North. Vaughan, in a speech a year ago, said:

"In order to achieve greater economic and industrial expansion in Nova Scotia we must look for solutions on a regional basis rather than a national basis . . . in other words, we must find markets which would be within close proximity and it must be a large market."

SAN DIEGO — Major David Mead, 39, is keeping in close touch with police as they look for a dog that bit him. Because of Viet Nam war wound complications, Major Mead could die if the dog is rabid.

MEXICO CITY — Pedro Martinez attempted suicide by gasoline—drinking it, not lighting it, police said. He was reported in good condition in the hospital where his stomach was pumped.

DETROIT — Sheriff Peter Baback and Under Sheriff James Bonmarito have been indicted for willful neglect of duty, charged with wholesale traffic-ticket fixing and other irregularities.

MONUMENT, Colo. — When his car stalled, Bessie Crawford said he was too flustered to notice it happened in the middle of railroad tracks. He left to get help. But it was no longer needed. The car was demolished by a Rio Grande Western freight train.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy (D-N.Y.), barred from speaking to a multi-racial student group in South Africa in May, will make the trip later in the summer, aides said.

ADELAIDE, Australia — The Queen Mother, showing no sign of fatigue after her long flight to Adelaide from Vancouver, held the first reception of her Australian visit here, receiving 35 members of the press, radio and television services at Government House and talked animatedly on a variety of topics.

Spending Builds Pressure

Winters Asks 'Reasonable Restraint' in New Expansion

By FRASER KELLY

Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — A major boost in capital spending that will increase pressure on Canada's already overheating economy was predicted by Trade and Commerce Minister Winters in the Commons Wednesday.

He combined a forecast of further expansion this year with a plea for "reasonable restraint" on all new expansion projects.

Mr. Winters tabled a report summarizing the investment intentions of some 20,000 businesses and all levels of government in Canada during 1966.

It showed an overall increase in capital expenditure of 13.6 per cent to a record high of $14,546,000,000. The increase will be felt in all sectors of the economy.

"The substantial increase in investment outlays planned for the current year indicates that capital spending will continue to give strong expansionary impetus to the Canadian economy."

"The program envisaged will add to the demand pressures now present in the economy, particularly for technical skills and materials which are already in tight supply."

"To forestall the further build-up of demand pressures, there is need for reasonable restraint on the part of all groups concerned, in embarking upon new projects, particularly those not urgently required to improve efficiency or expand industrial capacity," he said.

Informed sources here explained that the increase in pressure could mean even higher costs and prices, thus increasing the danger of inflation. It will add to Canada's balance of payments deficit with the U.S. as more and more machinery and equipment is imported.

They said that the report tabled by Mr. Winters virtually ensures the introduction of a get-tough budget by Finance Minister Sharp next Tuesday.

They said it is unlikely Mr. Sharp will introduce general anti-inflationary measures. But by the removal of tax incentives he will try to divert the boom from have to have-not areas.

He may also re-designate underdeveloped areas to attract development to the Atlantic provinces which currently suffer an unemployment rate of 10.9 per cent.

Mr. Winters said that business investment in 1966 will exceed last year by $1,236,000,000 or 16 per cent. Plans for purchase of new machinery and equipment involve expenditures of $3,366,000,000, or 17 per cent more than last year.

"Expenditures for new construction are expected to total $3,180,000,000, 12 per cent above the $2,801,000,000 spent in 1965. Within construction category, spending for non-residential buildings is likely to be higher by 15 per cent, and that for engineering works by about 10 per cent," he said.

The report itself stated: "The construction industry in particular came under considerable strain as the result of the sharp increase in the 1965 program. Construction costs rose by about 6 1/2 per cent in 1965 compared with increases of four per cent in each of the two preceding years."

The report made it clear that each of the five major regions of Canada is expected to share in the increase in capital spending.

"The sharpest provincial increases, ranging from 20 to 25 per cent, are planned in Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island."

WINTERSTOWN (CP) — A sharp cold snap slowed the Red River's rise Wednesday and official high-water forecasts were set back as much as two days.

Predicted levels, however, remained unchanged.

Agriculture Minister George Hutton said the flood crest now is expected to reach Winnipeg between April 8-18, one day later than the previous forecast.

Peak level is estimated at between 26 and 28 feet above winter average ice level at Winnipeg, where dike-raising operations continued in the hope of keeping all but isolated low-lying areas dry.

Blizzard warnings and forecasts of another four to eight inches of snow remained in effect Wednesday for northwest Iowa, southeastern Minnesota and northwestern Wisconsin. The storm was to move into northern Michigan Wednesday night.

SCHOOLS CLOSED — Schools were closed by the hundreds throughout the blizzard area. The University of Minnesota closed for the first time in history.

In Minneapolis, the grain exchange was closed when neither traders nor employees could get there.

TORONTO (CP) — Heavy snow and high winds reduced visibility to zero on the Trans-Canada Highway north of Lake Superior Wednesday night and provincial police urged motorists to stay off the highway.

Leafs Surprise Vancouver Club

By JIM TANG

If Vancouver Canucks anticipated that they would be facing a tired and rather battered club last night at Memorial Arena then they went about handling the Victoria Maple Leafs the wrong way.

Instead of getting out and skating, the Canucks elected to play it tough at the start. But they found the Victoria club perhaps more anxious than willing to trade bumps, could never get organized in the often bitter going and practically lost whatever chance they had at becoming Western Hockey League runners-up.

Canucks lost, 2-4, a score that was more than flattering, and dropped 10 points behind the Leafs, with six games left for the Victorians and seven left for the Mahlanders.

Off last night's game, there is scant hope of the Canucks moving up. Although less than 48 hours home after completing their gruelling eight-game road trip, the Leafs showed something close to their best form.

They fired 45 shots at Gilles Villemure in an effort which could easily have produced three or four more goals, checked tenaciously and hard and were in control after early establishing that they were not about to be pushed around. In fact, but for an extremely dubious penalty shot call by referee Lloyd Gilmour, they might have had their first shutout.

BAD GAME

Gilmour had an unaccountably bad game and can count himself fortunate that it didn't and Hextall, and wasn't to blame on Wayne Larkin's closing goal, set up by sloppy defence play.

Douglas Sits Out Two Games

MONTREAL (CP)—The National Hockey League announced Wednesday that defenceman Kent Douglas of Toronto Maple Leafs has been suspended for two games for his part in a fracas Saturday night at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Douglas was involved in a fight with Doug Mohns of Chicago Black Hawks and is also said to have pushed linesman John D'Amico and to have aimed a punch at the official. Douglas drew a minor, a major, a misconduct and a game misconduct as the Leafs downed the Black Hawks 4-2. He picked up an automatic $25 fine for the misconduct and was assessed $50 automatically for the game misconduct.

Ron Andrews, league publicist, said Douglas was not fined except for the automatic fines he picked up.

Douglas will miss tonight's game against Montreal Canadiens in Montreal and Saturday's encounter with Detroit Red Wings in Detroit. He will not be paid during his suspension.

Continuing to take advantage of their opponents' continued head-hunting, the Leafs settled things early in the second period as Lou Jankowski got his 29th goal and Bob Barlow his 34th.

Both came on backhand shots. Jankowski's after Aut Erickson had driven a point shot off a post and Slevator had taken a whack at the rebound and Barlow's after Andy Heberton had taken the puck away from Jack Evans behind the Vancouver goal and passed out front.

SEEMED CERTAIN Claude Labrosse made it 4-0 early in the third period with Bob Blackburn sitting out the third of his four penalties and with the Canucks disorganized and getting nowhere, a shutout seemed a reasonably sure thing.

But Gilmour ruled that Sandy Hucul had closed his hand on the puck inside the Victoria crease and awarded a penalty shot.

Phil Maloney, who almost lost control of the puck, made it count by backhanding it in after bringing John Henderson down and the tall one had lost his shut-out hopes.

But Henderson, playing his first game for the Leafs on Victoria ice, left the embarrassing 5-1 final score of 2-18 far more than a bit convinced he'll do as Al Millar's replacement.

QUICK MOVE He was tested only 23 times but he may have swung the decision early with a quick move which balked Bruce Carmichael on a close-in backhand.

Later in the game, he kept Canucks from closing the gap sooner than they did with good stops on Maloney, Carmichael.

Truscott Jury's Picnic 'Simple, Social Affair'

CLINTON, Ont. (CP) — The said Tuesday, was meant to be thought our wives and kids should get together too," said juror Wilmer Dabrymple, a farmer at Hensall near here. Young Truscott now is serving a life sentence for the crime, which he has maintained he did not commit.

Speaking of the jury picnic, the wife of jury foreman Clarence McDonald of Exeter said it was just a simple affair at Goderich at which the men played baseball.

Juror Anson Coleman, an elderly retired farmer from Clinton, said the original idea was to have a picnic every year. But the first one was asked to comment on a just-published book by Toronto writer Isabel LeBourdais, which maintains Steven Truscott is innocent of the crime, juror Dave Kyle described the book as "laughable."

"Truscott was guilty on all of the evidence and the Appeal Court bore us out," said Mr. Coleman said. "All I can say is if Truscott didn't do it, who did?"

Mr. Coleman said in an interview he was convinced Truscott was guilty because among other things he did not appear in the witness box in his own defence.

"I'd like to have seen him and his father in that box," Mr. Louis Frain, a retired farmer from Brussels, said.

"He hadn't a leg to stand on, that all there is to it. I am as satisfied today as I was then that he hadn't a leg to stand on. As far as the lady who wrote the book goes, she's looking to make some money and it's likely she'll make some."

Mid-Road Population Sparse in Oak Bay

Oak Bay voters have strong opinions on current provincial issues, a survey by MIA Alan Macfarlane shows. In answering most of 10 questions, more than 1,000 constituents showed strong majorities, one way or the other. The strongest opinion was registered in answer to a question asking whether citizens should have the right to sue the government.

"In most provinces, and in the case of the federal government, a citizen who has been wronged by the government can seek redress in the courts," the question said.

"Do you think this right should be granted in B.C.?" Only 1.8 per cent answered no, 98.2 per cent, yes.

They were also strongly opposed — 75.4 to 24.6 — to a short-term election. "Do you think it is right for a government with a solid majority to call an election after only three years?" was the question.

TAXES
A strong 95.9 per cent agreed the provincial government "should provide a more equitable means of paying for the cost of constructing schools and hospitals than the present system of land taxation."

The tally was closer on school by-law voting procedure. "Should the school board have the authority, without a vote, to build all necessary schools, subject to provincial government safeguards against excessive spending?" No, 53.8 per cent.

CHRONIC CARE
"If a local vote is taken, should 50 per cent approval be sufficient? Most governments are elected on less than 50 per cent of the vote." Yes, 58 per cent.

Other questions:
Should payment for nursing home and chronic care be put on the same basis as hospital care? Yes, 89.1 per cent.

Should the provincial government provide universities with sufficient funds to enable students' fees to be fixed at a level the average student can afford? Yes, 79.6 per cent.

BUS SYSTEM
Should the government pay the fees of students with 80 per cent average and half the fees of those with 70 per cent average? No, 60.4 per cent.

Is the government morally obligated to maintain B.C. Hydro's transit services? Yes, 87.2 per cent.

Are Vancouver Island residents and businesses being discriminated against on ferry fares? "Proponents for lower rates argue that Mainland residents no longer pay tolls on bridges, tunnels or highways." Yes, 54.5 per cent.

INSURANCE
Should car insurance be compulsory? Yes, 95.9 per cent. Should candidates be limited to an equal amount in election expenses? Yes, 76.9 per cent.

Changing World Theme of Week

Canadian Library Week starts Saturday — with the emphasis of this year's activities being centred on the changing world.

The date of Canadian Library Week this year is March 26 to April 2.

The patron of Canadian Library Week is Prime Minister Pearson.

Mr. Pearson praised the idea of having a library week, and said that through books mankind finds "invaluable instrument in man's step-by-step conquest of the almost infinite sphere of intellectual activity."

as Toronto before winter forced him to postpone going on to the Atlantic coast.

Not to be beaten by the snow, Claud shipped his cycle and trailer back to the West Coast and has been spending the last few months cycling in B.C.

EAST NEXT
A bartender from Quebec City, he was encouraged to take this world trip after seeing two films: Around the World in Eighty Days, and Around the World with Five Cents.

"These films more than anything else made me want to see the world and I thought, if they can do it, so can I."

After spending about a week in Victoria, Claud plans to travel back to Toronto to resume his world trip.

The next stage is to take him to Halifax, where he will take a ship to London, England and start a tour of Europe.

CANADA
The next two years should see him cycling across the Middle East and Asia before he picks up a boat in Japan and sails back to Canada.

Claud supports himself by selling souvenir postcards and by taking any sort of casual employment offered to him.

Film Tour Of Mexico Featured

Author and conservationist C. P. Lyons takes Victorians on a film tour of Mexico, at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, at Oak Bay Junior High School as part of Victoria Natural History Society's Audubon Wildlife film series.

The author of Trees, Shrubs and Flowers to Know in B.C., Mr. Lyons has had 20 years' experience as an officer in the department of recreation and conservation.

Mr. Lyons' film is a study of the relationship of Mexico's people to the land, from the Sonoran Desert to the Yucatan jungles.

Tournament Bringing 300

Bridge buffs will begin pitting their wits against each other at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Empress Hotel, when the Victoria Sectional Totem Bridge Tournament opens.

It is expected that 300 players will compete at the three-day tourney.

Starting times Friday and Saturday will be 1:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m.; Sunday games begin at 11 a.m. and 4:15 p.m.

Pedals Will Whirl For 60 Months

By TIM GLOVER

Around the world by cycle in 60 months is the ambition of 27-year-old French-Canadian Claud Dubé, who arrived in Victoria Wednesday. At the present moment he's losing ground — 60 miles farther from his goal than when he started.

Starting his cycle marathon in Vancouver last September, Claud travelled eastward as far as

'Very Guilty Man' Says So in Court

A very guilty man stood in central magistrate's court Wednesday charged with impaired driving.

James J. Bland, 324 Dallas, answered "very guilty" when asked by Magistrate William Ostler for his plea on the charge.

He was fined $350 and his licence was suspended.

CAR WEAVING

Prosecutor Peter Birkett said Bland was seen driving south on Douglas shortly after midnight Wednesday.

His car was weaving and crossed the centre line several times, Mr. Birkett said.

Saanich police gave chase after Bland almost collided with a turn sign on Douglas Street.

The police car drove for half a mile alongside Bland's car to get him to stop. Bland had his window open and was shouting at the police, Mr. Birkett said.

Police found Gilbert Wellington Knight, 937 Johnson, slumped over the wheel of his car with the motor running at 1:35 a.m. Wednesday.

Knight pleaded guilty to being impaired while having care and control of a car and was fined $500.

Mr. Birkett said Knight's car was stopped on the cross walk at Johnson and Quadra. A breathalyzer reading of .15 per cent was taken.

Pistol Stolen At Barracks

A 9-mm Browning pistol has been reported missing from the Work Point Barracks. It was found missing after a cleaning session at the barracks.

It is believed it was stolen from the quartermaster's stores sometime between March 15 and 21.

A Sten gun stolen last January from the back of a soldier's car when it was parked in downtown Victoria has not been recovered.

Martin Under Attack

'City of Mental Illness'

Health Minister Martin was accused of creating a "city of mental illness" as stubborn debate of his estimates continued in the legislature Tuesday.

NDP members David Barrett of Dewdney and Gordon Dowling of Burnaby criticized the government for planning to build a residential clinic for emotionally disturbed children, adding to it the Vancouver General Hospital forensic clinic near the Willingdon School for girls.

Mr. Barrett said mixing the three would create a potentially dangerous situation.

"You are creating a city of mental illness," he said.

He asked the government to reconsider and experiment with other systems of handling emotionally disturbed children.

He urged the government to turn to decentralized units, buying up old houses for just a few children at a time and investing the money in staff rather than "monuments."

"The light bill alone at Escondale has been as high as $22,500 a month," he said, "and once you turn the lights on in an institution like this, you can never turn them off."

LOVE, TRUST

"It is impossible to take 50 or 60 children, even in the cottage system, and stir them together and expect them to come out sane."

"Love and trust are factors that can be evident in a barn just as well as a million-dollar building," he said. "Walls cannot reach out and love a child. Clean hallways don't mean a rapport between staff and children."

Suggesting the minister call a halt to the plan, he said, "I want to build a monument, build it for something else."

He urged a limit of six to eight children per house, where they could receive treatment "as part of continual participation in the real world, rather than the institutional."

"Institutions teach them only how to live in an institution."

Replied Mr. Martin: "No matter what is done, it will be criticized. So there is nothing left to do but go ahead and do it. And that is what we are doing."

As he has done previously, Premier Bennett entered the legislature during Mr. Martin's estimates debate, and coached the minister with "Don't answer him," as opposition members asked questions.

Overnight Loot Small Change

Thieves got only small change in four break-ins in the city overnight Tuesday.

About $40 in silver and pennies was taken from Bennett's Confectionery, 1137 Dominion.

The thieves removed the putty and lifted a bedroom window to get in, then pulled out hinge pins to remove the storage room door.

Police said an unreported attempt had been made on the store March 18.

A screwdriver and $5 were taken from Airco Products, 505 David. The thieves got in by forcing a door.

A dollar in nickels was taken from the BA service station at 835 View. A tire iron was used to force an inside office door. Papers and the contents of a cupboard were strewn around the office.

A cigarette machine was interfered with at The Ocellar in the Montreal Trust Building. It was not known if anything was stolen.

Car Workers Get New Affiliation

More than 200 mechanics, body men, parts men and garage workers at 10 Victoria car dealers and two in Duncan have joined the International Association of Machinists, Local 218.

The IAM is the successor to the Automotive Maintenance Workers Union, Local 151, which was a directly chartered local of the Canadian Labor Congress.

The move has been made to give the men better representation within an international union rather than a small local of the CLC, says the Labor Relations Board.

Installation of the new charter was conducted at the Union Centre Wednesday night.

Pickets Absent From Inn Site

Pickets have been absent for two days from the site of the construction of the Red Lion Motor Inn, 3360 Douglas, and no further legal action has been reported.

Three sub-contractors, who had declined to carry out their obligations to the main contractor due to picketing Marquardt Construction Ltd., have now returned to work.

David Hummel, counsel for the contractors, said that everything was back to normal on the site and there had been no further legal action.

A B.C. Supreme Court injunction was served on two unions Monday in an effort to stop picketing.

Hunters Nab Fugitive Lions

LONDON (Reuters) — Eight lion cubs which escaped from the estate of an English peer in Wiltshire Monday night were chased for four hours by men on horseback and in cars before being caught.

YOUR RED CROSS
THANKS YOU
FOR YOUR HELP

Waiting at the intersection was a police car.

The passenger was Joseph Denton Poirier, Kemp Lake Road. He pleaded guilty to drinking liquor in a public place and was fined $50.

Three youths were fined $35 each after pleading guilty to being minors in possession of liquor.

William Creed, 2927 Shelbourne, admitted ownership of seven bottles of beer when stopped by police March 5.

Police found two opened bottles of beer near Ronald Smith, 1123 Temple, on March 5. Smith said they were his.

Gary James Watt, 638 Lagoon, had a full case in a parked car near Colwood Feb. 6.

Doctors Strike Over Money

ROME (Reuters)—About 60,000 Italian doctors who work with medical insurance firms have started a four-day strike to press claims for higher fees and better professional conditions. They stood by, however, to deal with emergency cases.

Courtroom Parade

John Jalland changed his plea to guilty after hearing the Crown's case against him and was fined $250 for impaired driving.

Jalland, 67, was stopped by police March 18 after his car had hit a power pole on Topaz.

A breathalyzer reading of .16 per cent was taken, court was told.

Magistrate Ostler passed the fine after hearing that Jalland was on a veteran's pension.

Gertrud Hedwig, 543 Toronto, left the Merry Mart in the Colwood Plaza Feb. 12 with seven items of women's apparel, two pairs of socks and a paint brush in her purse and pockets.

Mrs. Hedwig pleaded guilty to the shoplifting and was fined $75. The goods were valued at $14.71.

A man who slugged the co-host at a party Feb. 20 was fined $250 for assault causing bodily harm.

William Todd, 1170 Cloverley, was found guilty March 8 of assaulting Peter Patterson outside the Elks Club.

A passenger in a truck had a bottle of beer in his hand as the truck passed the intersection of Burnside and Trans-Canada Highway.

Employment Rises By 13,000

Employment in British Columbia increased between January and February by an estimated 13,000, and those employed now total 638,000, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

Unemployment went down 7,000 on January and February, although it was only 3,000 lower than the same period of 1965.

Unemployment in British Columbia in the first two months stood at 5.1 per cent. Last year it was 5.8 per cent.

Employment throughout Canada increased between January and February by an estimated 23,000, and those employed now total 6,708,000, the bureau said.

Lamontagne Admits Asking for Favors

OTTAWA (CP)—The defence at the Raymond Denis trial produced evidence Wednesday to picture Pierre Lamontagne as a favor-seeker for himself and other Montreal lawyers and for a man with a criminal record.

Mr. Lamontagne acknowledged he wrote several letters to Denis seeking help in getting federal government legal work channelled to lawyer-friends of the Liberal party and to himself.

He also admitted under oath he asked Denis to do something for a convicted house breaker and gambling house keeper, who wanted a pardon so he could winter in Florida.

LETTERS READ
Further correspondence was introduced showing Mr. Lamontagne asked Denis for information on federal property in Montreal which a client of his law firm wanted to buy, build on and lease to the RCMP.

The series of letters were read to the jury at the conclusion of cross-examination of Mr. Lamontagne by defence counsel Louis Assaly, who has questioned him for about a day and a half.

In some cases, Mr. Lamontagne testified he wrote letters at the request of his boss, Antoine Geoffrion, or former Liberal MP Edmund Asselin.

LAWYERS
In one letter, he told Denis he had to pacify Asselin and his brother, Patrick Asselin, who also was a Liberal MP at the time.

Among lawyers whom Mr. Lamontagne acknowledged suggesting for government work were Warren Allmand, Raymond Barrakett, Harold Derrmer, Ken Mackay, Laddie Schmalberg, Sidney Cutler and Fred Kaufman.

A letter by Denis to Mr. Lamontagne said the RCMP wasn't interested in the land-purchase proposal raised by Mr. Lamontagne two months earlier.

Mr. Assaly remarked this was the date on which Mr. Lamontagne made a written statement to the RCMP about Mr. Denis offering what Mr. Lamontagne has called a $20,000 bribe.

Denis

Mr. Lamontagne has testified he reported the offer verbally Aug. 11.

The trial lapsed into another legal argument with the jury of 10 men and two women excluded after the letters were filed. A considerable part of the time since the trial started Feb. 14 has been occupied by legal arguments in the absence of the jury.

RIVARD
Denis was at one time special assistant to former Justice Minister Lionel Chevrier. He later became executive assistant to the federal immigration minister.

He is charged with corruptly offering a sum of money to Mr. Lamontagne July 14, 1964, to have Mr. Lamontagne drop opposition to bail for narcotics smuggler Lucien Rivard.

Mr. Lamontagne, 39, was lawyer for the United States government in court proceedings in Montreal to have Rivard extradited to the U.S. for trial.

Rivard since has been convicted and is serving a 20-year sentence in an Atlanta, Ga., prison.

Mr. Lamontagne said it was "normal" for him to suggest lawyers' names for government work. Mr. Geoffrion and a number of other senior lawyers had been asked by Mr. Chevrier to help draw up a list of lawyers after the Liberals came to power in 1963.

He had been asked by Mr. Geoffrion to make suggestions and the letters recommending himself and "honest and competent" men were the usual practice.

One letter sought a pardon for Leo Scanzza, described in it as having been convicted of breaking and entering in his youth and four offences of keeping a gambling house between 1945 and 1953.

ACQUAINTANCE

Mr. Lamontagne said the man was a client of Mr. Geoffrion, had been refused entry to the U.S. because of his criminal record and finally had been permitted entry on appeal to Washington.

He said it is usual to make representations to someone you know in Ottawa to obtain a pardon. Mr. Geoffrion had asked him to do so. No pardon was granted, but the U.S. lifted the bar "on the ground that he was not a hood."

In June, 1964, Mr. Lamontagne asked Denis to get information on the office, barrack and garage space the RCMP would require in premises adjoining land owned by a client of his firm, Westmount Centre Inc.

Westmount centre planned to buy the land from the federal government.

Crisis For Father

What in the world does a modern, progressive father do when this (left) is suddenly introduced to him as his new son-in-law? That's the crisis facing John Brown, right, as Brown's father-in-law is introduced to him as his new son-in-law. The crisis is being played out in the comedy Three Parts Beside, opening at the McPherson Friday. —(J. T. Jones)

Victoria's Goodwill Spread from Bus

A goodwill tour by 20 Victoria Chamber of Commerce members aboard a double-decker bus was judged "a great success" Tuesday by tour chairman Sam Lane.

Last week's tour covered 900 miles of U.S. highway in Washington and Oregon, and the "See Victoria" message reached about 2,500,000 persons, Mr. Lane said.

The group's promotional campaign was primarily beamed at tourist groups and American Automobile Association tourist counsellors.

The B.C. centenary was brought to the U.S. by Mrs. Jean Thompson, of Craigflower Manor House, who appeared in costumes of the period of 1866.

"There were a few harrowing moments, like when our 14-foot-high bus barely scraped under low bridges and overhead wires."

In Portland, we visited the world's biggest shopping centre, where more than 2,000 persons saw the bus in one day," Mr. Lane said.

In the same city, more than 400 persons saw slides of Vancouver Island, which the touring group took along.

Bearded Advice Pays Off

NEW YORK (AP) — A letter from Abraham Lincoln to an 11-year-old girl who advised him he could become president if he just let his whiskers grow, was sold at auction Tuesday night for $38,000 to a Los Angeles television producer, David Weiser.

Lincoln wrote a full beard, won the election of 1860 and later told the girl in person she had sold him on making the change.

Standards Proposed On Chairlifts

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 50-man committee will meet in Victoria next month to draw up a set of standards for mountain chairlifts, tramways and tow-ropes in Canada.

R. E. Swanson, chief inspector for the B.C. government commercial transport department, will head the committee.

Mr. Swanson said Wednesday Canadian provinces now have regulations for lifts based on standards in Europe, set by the International Aerial Tramway Operators, of Rome.

Mr. Swanson said an anti-railback device to prevent chairlift accidents such as the one Monday on Grouse Mountain in North Vancouver will be made mandatory on all chairlifts.

The upper chairlift on Grouse began to roll back Monday and 18 people were injured when they jumped or fell from the lift.

'Bomb' Only Paper

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — "I have a bomb," the woman said, as she arose in the New York state assembly gallery Wednesday.

She tossed an object over the railing, toward the assembly below. It was a crumpled wad of paper, not a bomb.

As the paper fell, the woman cried out: "Why fluoridate our water when our children get a new set of teeth anyway?"

Capital building guards quickly removed her from the gallery.

Fluoridation of water has not been an issue before the state legislature this year.

Tony Won't Be There

Oscar's Suds 'Too Much'

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Among the many stars missing from the Academy Awards bash April 18 will be Tony Curtis. He frankly explains why.

Attendance by stars at the Oscar event has dwindled in late years to nominees, past winners and a few other names who can be talked into acting as presenters. Most other stars stay away.

The no-shows drew a blast two years ago from Debbie Reynolds, who declared the town's entire roster of stars should turn out for Hollywood's biggest public-relations gesture of the year.

Why don't the stars turn out? "I'll tell you why I won't," said Curtis. "It's because the Oscars are used to sell cookies and shampoo. I won't appear for the same reason I stay off all television. I don't want to be in the position of being used to sell cookies or shampoo."

"I know of 10 other stars who feel the same way. Oh, they may offer some phony excuse—they're going to be out of town or some damned thing. But the real reason is that the Oscar show is sponsored, so why should they lend their names to it?"

Two Bands Playing For Dance

Two American rock and roll bands and one Victorian band will play a four-hour dance at Esquimalt Sports Centre at 8 p.m. April 9.

Featured are the Newbeats and Rocky and His Friends, from the United States, and RPM and the Regents, of Victoria.

Tickets, at $2.50 each, are on sale at Kent's, 742 Fort, and at Esquimalt Sports Centre.

The Newbeats have toured England, Holland, Australia, New Zealand and Canada, and appeared on such television programs as American Bandstand, Where the Action Is, Shindig and the Lloyd Thaxton Show.

Hilt records include Bored and Butter and Run, Baby, Run.

Stoical Young Twin Brothers Get in Early on Victoria's Needling Season

Brave lad—Paul Cullen, 3—takes booster shot stoically but twin brother Patrick looks worried and brother Vincent, 5, winces. Mrs. J. G. Cullen holds her son while public health nurse Mrs. Bernice Flury injects Salk polio vaccine combined with vaccine for protection against whooping cough, tetanus, and diphtheria. Twins will get Sabin vaccine boosters on lumps of sugar next month shown as a demonstration at right. Clinic was held Wednesday afternoon in St. Philip's Anglican Church hall on Eastdowne, one of many Well Baby Clinics held regularly throughout area by Greater Victoria Metropolitan Board of Health.—(Robin Clarke)

Subterfuge Denied On Panhandle

By BOB PETHICK

A View Royal panhandle amalgamationist made it clear Wednesday night that his group had nothing to do with a possible ballot-box stuffing attempt in the coming vote Saturday.

The ballot-box stuffing furor was touched off Tuesday when Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell learned "peculiar transfers of land" had been registered in the area recently. In one case 23 owners' names were on a single property. In another case there were five owners' names on one property. Only property owners can vote.

Land transfers are not the only strange happenings taking place.

A month and a half ago a petition was taken around the area and residents were told, in some cases, the position was to give them a right to vote. They were told they had no right to vote as things stood.

Amalgamationist K. W. Richman, 666 Treebank Road, said Wednesday: "I wish to convey to the public at large that neither myself nor anyone connected with me in this campaign has resorted to any subterfuge to win this election."

"For the past 21 months I have personally spearheaded the move to amalgamate with Esquimalt, assisted by some 50 resident property owners who have given of their time and money," he said.

ALL APPROACHED

He said all property owners in the area had been approached and all business establishments with the exception of two firms which they thought would have no use for their cause.

He said members of his group had issued signed bulletins during the campaign so property owners would know their objectives.

"We have presented our case honestly to the people and now leave it in the hands of the 207 legitimate voters," he said.

LED TO VOTE

Mr. Richman's group circulated the original petition which was approved by panhandle ratepayers and triggered a successful amalgamation vote by Esquimalt in 1964.

One man approached by the recent petitioners—Frank Cammiede of 354 Gorge—said he was told the petition was to stop the government confiscating land but when he saw the petition it read "we do not want to join Esquimalt."

"That was pure misrepresentation," said Mr. Cammiede.

WARNING

Two others, approached and told the petition would give them the democratic right to vote, were Douglas Sprouton, 835 Garthland and P. F. Macdonald, 807 Delwood.

Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell has warned that any attempt to stuff ballot boxes could lead, on summary conviction, to fines of $200 or six months in jail under the Municipal Act.

Cement Cart Pushed in Sea

A cement cart being used on construction work at Ogden Point was pushed into the water by vandals Monday night. The cart, valued at $300, is being used by T. Lambie and Sons.

It was hauled out of the water the next day.

Past Year 'Plateau' In Welfare

Events of the year now ending may be viewed as a plateau rather than a continuation of the climb which the Community Welfare Council of Greater Victoria enjoyed during the past few years, president B. A. Tobin said in his annual report Wednesday.

Mr. Tobin said there were several reasons for this pause. One was the completion of the juvenile delinquency report in November, 1964, and the need for considerable preliminary work before any project of similar size could be undertaken.

PREPARATION

"For a large part of the past year the time of the executive director was taken up with preparatory work on proposed needs and resources survey for the capital region," said Mr. Tobin.

The final reason for the slowing of progress of the council was the loss of two key men in the organization, said Mr. Tobin. "A. W. Toone resigned following his election to the position of mayor of Victoria, and Jack Anguish, our executive director for more than four years, resigned to take up his former post as executive director of the United Community Services in London, Ontario," he said.

FIRST OF KIND

Mr. Tobin said the proposed needs and resources survey of the Victoria area would be the first study of its kind carried out in Western Canada.

"Such a study is essentially on behalf of the many agencies—both public and private—which cater to the welfare, health and recreation needs of the people of this area," he said.

"It would be impossible to carry out the project adequately without the full co-operation of these agencies. This will be sought and, we hope, generously granted, in the coming months," he added.

Officers elected at the annual meeting were Mr. Tobin, president, J. S. Holdstock, vice-president, William Hoosen, treasurer.

Some False Calls

By A. H. MURPHY

Although Victoria is a modern city with sophisticated systems of communication, it has not yet reached the stage where it can dispense with old-fashioned fire alarm boxes. It was decided Wednesday.

Deputy Fire Chief Eric Simmons admitted that it might be possible to do away with the boxes in outlying areas of the municipality. Most of the calls received from them were false alarms.

However in the built-up area of the city, where property was extremely valuable, the boxes were an integral part of the fire communications network. The B.C. Forest Products Ltd. industrial property, for example, had many boxes and in such an area they were invaluable.

No Karate For Kicks

If you want to learn karate to settle any scores, don't go to the Y.

He made the comment Tuesday after receiving several phone calls from parents concerned because their children had been beaten up.

Alarm Boxes Essential

Extra Equipment, Men Slashed from Budget

Fire department spending estimates of $306,000 were slashed by $32,800 by members of the city council fire wardens' committee.

Biggest cut was $79,000, which was asked for an additional pumper company at headquarters station in Victoria.

The move to add 16 men was a lost cause from the start.

"The taxpayers have just faced a stiff increase in the size of the department, caused through a change in the shift system, and they are in no mood for a further addition," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

City Manager Dennis Young recalled that some years ago it was urged that the Burnside Road hall should be relocated and a new hall built in the Hillside district.

True enough, responded the deputy chief, but the establishment of a new company at headquarters was still important. It was far short of what the underwriters thought was an adequate force for the city.

City council committees were in the second day of paring departmental spending estimates Wednesday.

They have considered the massive $1,000,000 estimate of the board of works and from it pared about $130,000. A start was made on the parks department estimate, another whopper, and further cutting will be continued, possibly on Friday.

Law enforcement estimates, which include figures from the

But in Network

Ald Edgelow questioned the fact that in such costs Victoria was required to pay about 50 per cent while Saanich was asked for 22 per cent.

The percentages were worked out by the provincial attorney-general's department on the basis of usage, said City Manager Dennis Young. It should also be remembered that inasmuch as fines went back to the municipality in which offences were committed, Victoria got the lion's share of income.

central magistrates' court, prosecutor's office, family court and juvenile detention home, have been considered, but little or no paring done as costs are shared intermunicipally in Greater Victoria.

Repair Expanded

Two-Month Refit Ends for Racer

A two-month layover in refit ends for the Coast Guard cutter Racer when she put to sea today.

'Sons' Mark 67th Year

The Native Sons of B.C. celebrated their 67th birthday in a suitable location Tuesday when the organization cut a cake in old Craigflower Schoolhouse.

Charter member James Blund, 82, did the honors as the sons met in what is believed to be the oldest school west of Winnipeg.

Past grand factor William Church told the story of how the organization began in Victoria on March 26, 1899.

Yarrows Ltd., was given the job of repairing a damaged rudder on the cutter two months ago, and while the ship was on the ways officials decided to go ahead with the annual refit, which was about due.

The refit period stretched out due to trouble in the craft's four engines, and it has taken until now to mend the damage.

She will take up patrol duties in the Sandheads area, leaving at 9 p.m. today.

The Racer bent her rudder during a search for three Oak Bay boys who put to sea in a small boat from Oak Bay Marina two months ago.

The boys' small boat and some equipment was recovered but the boys are still missing.

Diocesan Board

Anglican Women Meet in City

Rev. R. A. Hoult welcomed delegates of the Diocesan Board of the Anglican Church Women's Auxiliary to their annual meeting which opened in Christ Church Memorial Hall on Tuesday.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Hoult spoke of the doubts which are being played like a searchlight on the church. "Will it survive?" he asked and answered, "Yes, it will go on from strength to strength."

Mrs. G. R. V. Bolster also spoke words of welcome and said she was thrilled to be present as a life member.

Mrs. G. A. Moir made the reply and stated that this was her first attendance at an annual meeting.

Mrs. Moir is a delegate from the newly formed Young Mothers' Group recently installed at St. John's in Duncan.

Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, president, spoke of the amount of travelling she had done in connection with WA work. She also announced that 14 Life Memberships had been presented during the year and that membership had increased. Two new branches had been formed, one at Port Hardy and the other at Duncan.

Mrs. Goodwin also announced that changes would be made in the names of the Diocesan Department and the WA. She asked that any changes be accepted with cheerfulness.

Mrs. H. C. McDonald thanked Mrs. Goodwin for her leadership through the years.

Mrs. F. E. Anfield, vice-president of the British Columbia WA, brought greetings from Vancouver and from the Dominion president and executive.

Mrs. Anfield told of some of the problems confronting women doing church work. She stressed the importance of unity which really begins within the individual.

Mr. Peter Parker of the University of Victoria spoke of the Anglican Church on the campus. He said the year had been an interesting one for the University Canterbury Club.

The group held regular meetings, communion services. There had been several speakers, but Mr. Parker pointed out that students are not really interested in listening to 40-minute speeches as this is what they have been doing all day. They would rather have personal fellowship such as is found in coffee clubs, etc.

A delegate was sent to the Student Christian Movement in Saskatoon, to the Older Boys' Parliament, and to the 20th Century Folk Mass, a musical and religious service.

Party After Show

Following the final performance of the Victoria Theatre Guild production of Seven Nuns in Las Vegas Saturday evening, members of the cast the crew, and their friends attended a party in the Caen Road home of Mrs. Meta Edwards. Among those attending was the director of the play, Mrs. H. G. North. The guild's next production will be a murder mystery, Dead on Nine, directed by Mrs. Janet Smith, production chairman of the Theatre Guild, opening on April 30 in Langham Court Theatre.

Mr. Parker said that attendance had not been good and asked the WA members to do two things—first to pray the Anglican students may know what God wants them to do and secondly, to keep the campus in mind in their prayers.

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. T. Hughes, Prayer Partner secretary.

Mrs. G. H. Greenhalgh, United Thank Offering Secretary, announced that the sum of $3,872.12 was received from all branches. She commended the practice of sending the money twice yearly, and also spoke of the new boxes which are made of cardboard and are not quite as costly as the former ones.

She suggested that friends outside of the WA be encouraged to take a box. At the Service of Holy Communion there were over 300 communicants. Assisting Archbishop Sexton were Canon Hywel Jones, Rev. R. A. Hoult and Dean Brian Whitlow.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am married to a man who is a good husband and father. He is an excellent provider and I do not recall the last time he missed a day of work.

The problem is that every Saturday night he goes out and gets drunk. He says if I was a good wife I would go with him to see that he doesn't get into an accident. He drives his own car and keeps telling me that one of these Saturdays he will run over someone, or into something, and it will be my fault.

I do not drink and I abhor taverns and the types who hang around such places. I honestly don't know what is the right thing to do. Please tell me.—TORN IN TWO

Dear Torn: Your husband is trying to maneuver you into condoning his Saturday night benders. Moreover he'd like to shift the guilt to you if something unfortunate does happen to him while he's out tootin' around. Don't fall for it. If he insists on getting smashed once a week you can't stop him, but you don't have to lead him from one saloon to another. Tell him to take taxis or walk.

Dear Ann Landers: I want to buy my grandson a birthday gift and I need your help. He will be four years old next month.

My daughter said she wants me to buy him a pet, but she says it must be easy to care for, house-broken, inexpensive to feed and something that will not bite or scratch a child who may play a bit rough. My daughter's father-in-law makes his home with them and he cannot stand noise. What do you suggest?—STUMPED GRANDMA

Dear Stumped: Easy. A goldfish.

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from the hat check girl got me mad. And I'm mad at you, too—for publishing her stupid letter. Aren't there enough gossipy wonders who allow themselves to be ashamed into tipping without YOU helping the cause? I'm an ad space salesman and I work mighty hard. Nobody tips ME for doing a good job. And why should they?

can think of one—PERMANENT RESIDENT OF SHNOOKSVILLE.

Dear Shnook: I've said it before, but obviously you missed it so here it is again: The European system of tipping, before the Americans got there and spoiled things was far better than ours. Fifteen per cent was added to the bill and tipping was discouraged.

In our country tipping is considered part of the cost of going out. Since you resent the system I suggest that you park your car on the street (if you can find a parking place), eat at home, and keep your coat and hat with you.

Brownies Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Oak Bay Kiwanis Guide Hall was the setting for a mother and daughter banquet marking the 40th anniversary of the Brownies.

The new Victoria Area Guide Commissioner, Mrs. H. McKeever, brought greetings from the Area. She spoke on the continuity of the Guide program from the Brownie level, through Guides and on to Rangers and Cadets, teaching the girls many skills and helping them to develop a keen interest in their community and the world at large.

Registered in March, 1926, the Pack had as its first warranted Brown Owl, Miss Stewart Williams, who later formed the Victoria Ranger Company and at one time ran the Guide supply store. She then went to India and helped set up Guiding in that country.

Mrs. F. Robinson, a former Brown Owl, cut the cake as the the Brownies sang Happy Birthday and candles were blown out by the Sixers.

Mrs. B. Shaw, commissioner of Gonzales division, introduced Guide Jeanne Moreau of the 10th Company, who recently won the Gold Cord. She will be one of four Guides representing B.C. at a Heritage Camp in New Brunswick this summer.

LADY LAURIES

The Lady Laurier Club of Oak Bay will meet and hold a luncheon at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel at 12:30 p.m., Friday, Mr. Pat McGreer will be the speaker.

Representing the next step in Guiding was Miss DeKever, Sea Ranger captain.

Provincial program commissioner, Mrs. W. Reith described a visit she made last year to an international camp in Sweden and presented a program of slides taken at the camp.

Mrs. McKeever presented Golden Hand badges to Judy Brock, Pat Cosburn, Joan Inglis, Kathleen Larky, Lori Camp, and Sheila Slaght. Rosemary Ramsay and Sheila Slaght received their collector's badge and Sheila her writer's badge.

Teen-Age Gestapo Never Knew War

Iron Cross, Swastika Are In

By DONALD ZOCHENT
UPI

The old Iron Cross, a German military award has become a new fad among many American teen-agers too young to remember the Second World War.

A U.S. nationwide survey showed that teen-agers from the boroughs of New York City to the beaches of Southern California are decorating themselves with replicas of the Iron Cross and anything which looks like it, including Maltese crosses and army marionette medals.

In some areas, especially among the motorcycle set, teen-agers have donned

Second World War German helmets and worn Swastika insignias, emblems of Hitler's Nazis.

"They're one of the hottest novelty items we've had in the past five or 10 years," said a spokesman for Swank Inc., in New York City, which manufactures the items, sometimes called "surfer's crosses."

"We prefer to call them Maltese crosses," the spokesman said. Some store owners are reluctant to handle them because of the remembrance of the Second World War, he said. "But we tell them they're not Nazi crosses, but Maltese crosses."

Sen. Ross Bass, D-Tenn.,

who called attention to the fad earlier this week, said, "I would imagine that 89 per cent of the teen-agers don't know what the crosses mean."

But if the youngsters don't, their elders do.

Robert Willard, principal of Pierson Junior High School in Kansas City, said he first saw one of the crosses hanging from the neck of a schoolboy in a hallway.

"The first recollection that came to my mind when I saw it was of a big German tank during the Second World War," he said. "I didn't like the connection."

Louis Sherman, who operates a war surplus store in Milwaukee, Wis., said the Iron Crosses are "quite popular," but he stopped selling them. "I'm a member of the Jewish faith and I don't believe in this sort of thing," he said.

A Jewish girl at rich township high school in Park Forest, Ill., whose father bought her one of the crosses, stopped wearing it when a classmate told her what it represented.

Dealers in novelty and war surplus material across the U.S. reported sales were brisk.

"We're selling them like crazy here," said a spokesman for a major men's store in Chicago. "It's the biggest thing since women."

The

operator of a Chicago surplus store said "The demand is terrific. The kids are buying them."

Some purists among the teen-agers are asking specifically for the 1939 Iron Crosses with swastika, referring to them as "Nazi medals," according to Edward M. Pierog of West Bend, Wis., a private collector.

A motorcycle dealer in Norfolk, Mass., admitted there was a run on German medals and a New Orleans variety store said the crosses have been selling at a brisk clip for the past month.

"I don't know why, but they are popular," one store manager said.

At the Grand National Roadster Show held at Oakland, Calif., recently, many items based on German military symbols were in evidence. One big seller in the Bay area is a black plastic German-style helmet.

Members of the Hell's Angels motorcycle gang are believed to have been among the first to adopt the German symbols in their personal dress. "We wear Iron Crosses and that Nazi stuff to shock people, to let 'em know we're Angels," one gang member told a reporter.

The owner of a surfboard shop at Santa Monica, Calif., said he does a big business in Maltese crosses as pendants, necklaces, bracelets and emblems on T-shirts. "The German cross and the Maltese cross are a lot older than the Nazis," he said. "The teen-agers like them and they don't know from nothing about politics."

Dream-Seed Banned

LONDON (AP) — The British government Tuesday banned the sale of a garden seed called "Morning Glory" after reports that teen-agers have been using it to make an hallucination drug.

Airlines Face Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The machinist's union threatened Wednesday to strike five major American airlines April 23, to enforce pay demands for 34,000 mechanics and ground crew members from coast to coast.

Union vice-president Joseph W. Ramsey issued the strike deadline on Eastern, United, Trans-World, National and Northwest Airlines.

The machinists called the walkout to back up demands for a 15 per cent wage increase — far above White House guidelines of 3.2 per cent a year — in the first joint negotiations in airline history.

A spokesman for the companies called the wage proposals "excessive."

Top-rated mechanics now make $3.53 an hour. Less skilled employees earn less.

Chinese Dash Home

JAKARTA (UPI) — Hundreds of Chinese were reported Wednesday trying to leave Indonesia following the ouster of pro-Freedom leaders from the Indonesian government by Lt.-Gen. Suharto.

Red China's top Indonesian-based diplomats already have started back to Peking for "urgent consultations" and there were strong indications that the honeymoon between Indonesia and China was all but over.

Diplomatic sources said it was not likely that either country would sever diplomatic relations although Suharto already has made it clear he is anti-Communist.

Eleven senior Chinese officials, including Ambassador Yao Chung-ming, already have left Jakarta and at least six more were expected to depart shortly.

The clandestine voices of Free Indonesia, which claims to broadcast within Indonesia, said in a broadcast monitored in Singapore that it appeared an order had been issued to close down all Chinese consulates in the sprawling island republic.

The radio said Chinese consulates in Jembermain on the island of Borneo; in Surabaya in West Java and in Makassar in the Celebes were already closed.

Drug Firm Checked By Spy on Inside

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of a detective agency candidly admitted to U.S. Senate investigators Wednesday that he planted a spy in the office of a wholesaler on behalf of a Philadelphia drug company.

John Saviano, chief of Inter-County Surveys, Inc., New York, identified the wholesaler as H. L. Moore Drug Co., of New Britain, Conn., and the pharmaceutical firm as Smith, Kline & French.

The planted employee, David Terpetra, a former Dutch seaman, acknowledged his role in the case in testimony before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. He said he considered himself "a security man, not a spy."

Hyman L. Moore, president and treasurer of the wholesale drug company, charged that

Small Heart Stilled

He Couldn't, But He Tried

DALLAS (UPI) — The doctor eyed the razor blade and then the small boy beside the back yard pool.

Bright rays of sun skittered across the pool. It was a beautiful spring day with temperatures in the mid-70s.

"I can't do it here," the doctor mumbled to the policeman standing by the water's edge.

But then Dr. Robert Slocum looked down at the unnaturally still three-year-old and did what he said he couldn't. He made three quick slashes with the razor, cutting open the boy's chest.

The doctor's fingers surrounded the small, still heart and began to massage it. Still keeping his rhythm, Slocum, an osteopath, shot a hypodermic of adrenalin into the boy's heart. "I'll fix it up again," the doctor ordered Policeman M. E. Debenport.

The policeman did what he was told.

The doctor alternately opened and closed his fist over the boy's heart—trying to give life from his body to the boy.

Another hypo poured adrenalin into the heart.

Slocum then reached for his stethoscope. No reassuring "thump, thump" came through the ear plug.

"That's it," the doctor said. He got up slowly, looked down at the boy and wept.

The boy was his son, Douglas.

The boy's mother had found him floating face down in the pool about noon Tuesday. She called her husband and police, who pulled the body from the water.

Career Girls Stabbed, Shot

QUINCY, Ill. (UPI) — Two small-town career girls were found slain Tuesday not far from the apartment they shared in this Mississippi River town. Both had been stabbed repeatedly and both bodies bore shotgun wounds.

Police found the body of Donetta Pickens late Tuesday night, stuffed in the trunk of her car about a half-mile from the apartment.

Twelve hours earlier, the body of Judith Ann Greening had been found along a road 4 1/2 miles from town.

SAME COMPANY

Both girls did secretarial work for the same company, Miss Pickens, 21, from Plainville, Ill., had come to Quincy several months ago. Miss Greening, 22, was from Monroe City, Mo.

They had lived together for about six months.

Coroner Gerald Potts said a search of the girls' apartment had turned up no clues as to why they were slain. The girls were last seen in their apartment by friends about 7 p.m. Monday.

NO LINK

Police said they were aware that a former Quincy man had escaped from a mental hospital at Jacksonville, Ill., last week but said they had no evidence connecting him with the slayings.

The body of Miss Pickens, a 5-foot-5 brunette, was fully clothed. The body of Miss Greening was clad in rain-soaked black leotards and a white blouse. It had not been determined whether either victim was sexually molested.

Prisons Quitting Dark Ages

The prison service in Canada is just coming out of the dark ages, Gamaliel Milner, superintendent of the William Head minimum security prison, told members of the Victoria North Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

The prison service had been the least interesting of all the government departments, but fortunately this attitude was now changing, he said.

Mr. Milner said that on any one day 20,000 people were in some form of confinement in Canada, whether it was a temporary stay in a police cell or a long term in a maximum security prison.

The present long-term prison population across the Dominion stood at 7,600, he said.

These criminals were confined in one of three different kinds of prisons. The really dangerous criminals were put into maximum security prisons such as the B.C. Penitentiary.

Those people who would escape if given the chance, but who would not use force, were kept in medium security prisons.

Those who accepted their sentences and who could be expected to get on with their work without too much supervision were kept in minimum security prisons such as William Head.

Here the families of the prisoners were allowed to visit, and the prisoners were allowed to wear their own clothes on special occasions. Each inmate was given a good one-year apprenticeship in a trade and encouraged to write to employers while still in prison so that he could be guaranteed a job on release.

The whole emphasis in prison was now placed on rehabilitation. It had been found that severe punishment would only lead to punishing him, said Mr. Milner, anti-social behavior.

Quarantine Rule Spares Balsams

Nursery stocks of ornamental balsam on south Vancouver Island are to be quarantined for a year instead of being destroyed as previously ordered by the provincial government.

Earlier this month the cabinet approved an order to have the plants destroyed in an attempt to stop the spread of woolly aphids — an insect that threatens to destroy 12 per cent of B.C.'s balsam timber stands.

After conferring with growers, the government decided not to enforce the order but to quarantine the ornamentals for a year and then review the situation. Edward Lohbrunner, an official of the Vancouver Island Nurserymen's Association and allied trades, said Tuesday.

VERY REALISTIC

"The government has taken a very realistic approach to the problem," he said.

Mr. Lohbrunner observed that the province-wide ban on sale or shipment of balsam fir was still in effect.

"We will not be able to sell the ornamentals for a year," he said. "But any nurseryman who cannot afford to keep his stock for a year can have the government destroy the plants, and then be reimbursed for the loss."

BASIS UNSTATED

He did not say what would be the basis for the payments.

The growers protested the destruction order because they felt balsam stands on South Vancouver Island were infested with the aphids, and the destruction of just the ornamentals would have done little to stop the infestations, Mr. Lohbrunner said.

Don't Dilly-Dally

By M. V. CHESNUT

Requests are coming in hot and heavy for the free seeds of Amaranthus, the first of the 1966 Colonist Free Seed offers. This response pleases me no end, for I am most anxious to see these remarkable and eye-catching plants introduced to Victoria gardens.

While we have a pretty big bagful of these seeds, I suggest you get your letter off requesting your gift packet without any dilly-dallying for, at the rate the seeds are going out of here, we may run short, as we did with the Chlorophytum seeds a few years ago. On that occasion we had to substitute different seeds for the last 3,000 requests that came in.

To new readers who may not be familiar with the workings of the Colonist free seed offers, I'd like to assure them that there are no gimmicks in the deal—nothing to buy, no box tops, no sales slips, no obligations of any kind. You don't have to be a Colonist subscriber to get your seeds, nor is it necessary to have a coupon clipped from the paper; a letter will serve just as well.

If your next-door neighbor doesn't take the Colonist, tell her she can have a free packet of Amaranthus seeds too, just by writing to me and asking for them, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope. The business of the stamped and self-addressed envelope is important. Every year we receive over 30,000 requests for free seeds, and if we had to buy stamps for all these, the cost would be prohibitive. Even more important, though, is the work load.

Our girls can handle the thousands of requests that come in, using your own stamped and self-addressed envelopes, which would be an impossible task if we had to prepare and address each letter ourselves.

In choosing the Amaranthus for our first free seed offer this year, I had in mind a plant of dramatic appearance, one not commonly grown hereabouts, and one so striking and eye-catching that passers-by will stop, stare and wonder. My seeds are not of just one kind of Amaranthus, but a mixture of many sorts, including the following:

Amaranthus caudatus is a plant of many nicknames—Tassel plant, Love-lies-bleeding, Kiss-me-over-the-garden-gate. Some seeds will make dwarf plants eight to 10 inches tall, suitable for houseplants, while the garden varieties grow to a height of three feet, some with green leaves, some with yellow or blood red foliage, but all with long, drooping crimson tassels in July and August.

Prince's Feather is the nickname for A. hypochondriacus, which means "of melancholy appearance." This may have been true of the original wild plants, but the modern hybrids are anything but sombre. Blooming from July to September, the plant grows to a height of three to four feet, with red leaves and upright feathery plumes like Pampas grass but in various shades of red, green, yellow, maroon and purple.

Do you think you could lend it over the neighbors if you had a four-foot plant in your garden that looks like a weeping willow but with red or orange leaves? You can have one in a few weeks if on of your gift seeds turns out to be Amaranthus salicifolius, the Fountain Plant. The long, narrow, drooping leaves come green at first, but soon turn color to give the effect of a fountain or fire. The poorer the soil, the more vivid the color.

Joseph's Coat, A. tricolor, is well named, for it is truly of many colors. A fast-growing 3-foot annual, it has highly ornamental pointed leaves, crimson or scarlet at the base, orange or yellow in the middle, and green at the tip. A massed grouping of these plants in the front garden is guaranteed to stop traffic.

ART BUCHWALD Contemplates Buddhism

Mob Rule Way to Bliss

The Buddhist demonstrations in South Viet Nam have many people in Washington worried. If they continue, they could cause the downfall of Premier Ky's government.

Most people think that these demonstrations are politically motivated, which is not the case. They are religious in their background and can only be explained in these terms.

The Buddhists in South Viet Nam, unlike Buddhists in other countries, do not believe in the Far East, believe they can only achieve salvation by bringing down their government once a year. It is a religious rite, usually connected with spring planting.

For a period of anywhere from one to two months every

Buddhist must devote two hours to overthrowing the Saigon Premier.

This is what is known as "the middle way."

The four inherent truths in Vietnamese Buddhism, according to modern teachers, are that existence is sorrow, sorrow is caused by government, sorrow

ceases when the government

ceases, and the way to achieve happiness is to burn down a library.

In order to attain a sublime life, one must follow the precepts of Trung Wang Gang,

a modern Buddhist philosopher preaches that harmony can only be reached by visiting a duck-laden swamp.

The way to complete bliss is to follow the six-fold path —

rock-throwing, placard-carrying, name-calling, street-demonstrating, police-baiting, and the occupying of government buildings.

In no case should the enlightened person get involved with politics.

For the moment, the religious rite of bringing down the government has been postponed.

The non-believers have promised that there would soon be free elections in South Viet Nam.

The South Vietnamese Bud-

dists prefer to wait then, because, in the words of Trung,

"blessed are those who bring down the government of Premier Ky, but twice blessed are those who bring down a government after there are free elections."

An enlightened person

SHEILAH GRAHAM

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—With less than one month to go before the envelopes are opened, here are my predictions for the Oscar winners—Best actor, Oscar Werner. Best actress, Julie Christie. Best picture, Sound of Music. Best director, Robert Wise. Best song, The Shadow of Your Smile from Sandpiper. I have quite made up my mind about the supporting players. I will let you know before the big night.

Jack Benny who has never won an Oscar, but has an Emmy or two, bought two penthouses atop the new high-rise Century-Apartments on the 20th Century-Fox lot. He is knocking them into one great big glorious panorama of the city. His home in Beverly Hills, next door to Lucille Ball, is on the market, as you may have read, but his asking price was news to me—$450,000. There is practically nothing in Beverly Hills under six figures. Kim Novak's comparatively small home can be had for something like $125,000.

Rum, don't walk, to the most charming film of the year, Born Free. This has to be a hit—how many people read the book—say 16,000,000. Also, all animal lovers and children will want to see Elia the lion and Virginia McKenna and her real-life husband Bill Travers—they play Mr. and Mrs. Adamson—Mrs. A. Joy, wrote the book.

Batman will be in England where they expect The Bat to be as big as in North America. Adam West hopes to fly over there in his batplane, and he is looking forward to the experience. He enjoys being torn apart by his admirers.

Picks Winners

And he can always use his anti-tearing apart powder. Coming up for him, Adam told me, is "a marvelous romantic comedy." He will do it in Europe. Also Matchless for Dino de Laureatis. But he doesn't know when, being so busy with getting a "batman" backing. The Batman fan clubs are really mushrooming. Adam has one Chicago alone with 250,000 members. Zowie!

The Jerry Orbachs are toasting a party for Ariane Dahl with new husband, Alexis Lichine, and the most glamorous stars in Hollywood will be there—the *Miki Douglas*s, Leslie Hall and Gary Morton, Gleam Ford and his fiancée Kathy Hayes—they are due to marry any day. Also actress Jean Dixon, flying here for the event. But not Cary Grant who would come if only to say hello to Miss Dixon. Cary is too busy cooing to his new daughter, Jennifer, to attend any parties—except of course the M-coring he did for the banquet for Princess Phillip.

No wonder Sean Connery has been so much in Hollywood lately. He still has the house he rented in Toluca Lake when he was making A Fine Madness. At that time he brought his two children over from London, and they still attend school here. Sean commutes between Los Angeles and Tucson where wife Diane is starring in Hombre with Paul Newman. And of course he will make his next *Bond*er in Japan this summer. The producers have adjusted his contract, which was already adjusted to the million-dollar mark before he made Thunderball.

Love Locked Out

In an earlier day, the family experience afforded opportunities for the fullest interplay of personal relations. The reciprocal love of the older and the younger members was related to a family atmosphere in which parents and children truly lived together as part of the same world.

(If today we move out of each others' lives as soon as the younger generation grows up, be it noted that the "moving" process has already started in childhood.)

Family experiences were not primarily cultural or economic, as in our age; they were profoundly spiritual. Fathers and mothers were not ashamed of veneration or embarrassed

by their roles as moral teachers—as in our society.

On the contrary, they took very seriously their duty to function as the creators of venerable and exalted family moments.

Because of this, the love of their children would forever after be associated with the spiritual intimacies and the moral authority which they gladly acknowledged as the prerogative of parents.

Parents could thus never really live apart from their children; to do so would have spelled out their singular defeat

as the taste-makers and decision-builders of a style of life which was valid only if it were shared.

But of such things we know little. We live longer, but with less loyalty. The life-curve in our society reaches its peak in the middle years—when we are physically strong and attractive—and quickly declines through a lifespan now prolonged by medical science.

In contrast to this, in earlier times, the older a man was the more respect he enjoyed, the higher his community standing.

Ageing used to mean greater opportunities for participating prestigiously in a family which shared its concern.

Instead of moving away from the centre of family living, children and grandchildren once moved closer to the nucleus.

Love was not translated into activities or attitudes geared to creating independence or selfcentredness in children.

On the contrary, the goals of love were related to the building of unceasing loyalty to the family, based upon the reverence for its elders.

Our ideas of love and loyalty have conspired to make our older age a time of rejection and of loneliness. The average

North American woman, for example, so often loved for the wrong reason, only now look forward to approximately 10 to 15 years of widowhood—lonely widowhood.

The younger generation rarely offers, and the widowed mother dare not demand, that she move in to live with them. Loved and adored as a glamorous young woman, she is scorned and rejected in her lonely, older age.

Now, time hangs heavily on her hands; she is burdened by its sagging load. She longs to kill time which is another way of wishing her life away.

If love were more than the worship of things—to which it has been reduced by love-as-sex—it would aid us to transcend the dread of time. We would come to our older age powered by the knowledge that we can continue to look ahead to the sharing of our lives with those who have never moved out of our world.

More than once we have heard the lament of lonely old age, the tell-tale sigh which belatedly reminds us all—parents, children, husbands and wives—of what we have lost while we thought that we were winning. It is this unresolved hurdle question which we have brought down on our own heads:

"What price modern love?"

Bain near shelter: "Improperly operated"

'Mess of Old Shacks' Infuriates Neighbors

By KLAUS MUENTER

MILL BAY — The Good Shepherd Shelter's reputation for kindness and consideration toward animals received its first dent since the shelter moved to its new location here. The shelter is being operated by Mother Cecilia, some nuns and members of another religious group.

It moved to Mill Bay recently from Metchoin.

"We think it is very cruel to keep animals in confinement for weeks without providing them with a proper run," charged Miss E. M. Elliott and Roy Bain, neighbors living opposite part of the 60-acre property.

Mr. Bain said "We were told by a shelter official that small houses would be built and the grounds would be properly landscaped. Now we are disappointed with the mess of old, run-down shacks bunched together."

Both Miss Elliott and Mr. Bain are great animal lovers and in their neat gardens, birds, coons and cats find a haven.

Between their properties and the shelter property is the Trans-Canada Highway.

Mr. Bain said they were "very happy when they learned the shelter would be located at Mill Bay."

He said that some time ago the dogs confined in one of the shacks were allowed to use an improperly-built run, and some of them took off across the highway into the gardens.

He said the dogs were finally recaptured and have stayed in the shack since without any exercise.

"I think the shelter is very carelessly operated because the dogs could have caused a serious accident," he said.

Mr. Bain said that before Christmas he, his wife and Miss Elliott sent handsome donations but "we never received an acknowledgment, let alone a thank you."

He said cats also have been confined to one of the ramshackle buildings without any exercise for some weeks.

In a letter to Roman Catholic Bishop Remi De Roo, Miss Elliott said, "I regret to say Mother Cecilia Mary, with her animal shelter, has come to live across the road from my cottage."

"Beautiful Mill Bay now begins to look like a shack town," Under the impression Mother Cecilia was doing a wonderful and humane piece of work, I wrote her before Christmas telling her how glad I was she was coming to live here.

"I sent her a donation I could ill-afford."

"I have not yet received any acknowledgment for the donation although my cheque has been cashed."

"Mother Cecilia, while living at Metchoin, allowed me to send her four stray cats to be cared for by her."

"Now I understand these cats got free and have simply been left behind to starve."

"Some of Mother Cecilia's dogs are quite savage and have bitten unsuspecting people."

"Mother Cecilia and her Sisters all are quite old, and work such as they are trying to do must be beyond their strength."

Mother Cecilia, in reference to the crowded shacks across from the Elliott and Bain property, said, "It is only until proper buildings are put up."

"I have heard no complaints and people of Mill Bay have been marvellously kind."

"We only have been here for two weeks."

She admitted the shelter is not properly run now, "but it will be."

She said Bishop De Roo had no jurisdiction over the shelter. She said there are about 60 dogs, 25 cats, one pony and 17 goats at the shelter now.

Well-known dog trainer and breeder of Chihuahua dogs, Hunter Smith of Hutchinson Road and Trans-Canada Highway, who for many years operated the El Hunt Kennels which now houses the shelter, said he has helped build some of the new kennels at the shelter.

He said, "I have been in the business since I was 14 years old."

He said apparently it is the practice at the shelter to give dogs choice cuts of meat and chocolate bars, but a dog needs a well-balanced diet and exercise.

He said the new kennels at the shelter are built of wood which is very impractical, and requires a lot of hard work in cleaning and the idea of providing heat for big dogs with long hair as is done at the shelter, is "unwise."

Builder of the well-known glass castle near Duncan, George Plumb worked a while for Mother Cecilia, when some of the new facilities were built, but he has no desire to do it again.

He said, "One of the fellows was bitten by one of Mother Cecilia's dogs and when she heard of it she just laughed."

Mr. Plumb said, "She thinks far more of a dog than she does of a human being."

B.C. Will Spend More To Attract Tourists

Recreation Minister Kiernan told the provincial tourist advisory council here Wednesday that the government intended to spend $400,000 more on tourist publicity this year.

He said during the council's annual meeting at the Empress Hotel that while his department's estimates had not yet come before the legislature, "we propose an increase in the promotional vote from $600,000 last year to $1,000,000 this year" for such things as advertising, publicity and the publication of maps and brochures.

It means that the government will be authorized to spend about $1,610,000 for the tourist industry this year, including nearly $200,000 for the photographic branch, $235,000 for travel bureau personnel salaries and $175,000 for regional matching-grant tourist promotion.

ADVERTISING The minister also announced that beginning April 1, the government would start paying 60 per cent of the cost of external advertising for regional promotions.

The travel business in British Columbia should be substantially increased during the next couple of years because of the two centenaries which are being celebrated and the new northern ferry service.

Harold J. Merlees, chairman of the advisory council, said that a "first-class, high-calibre deputy minister for tourism" is needed if B.C. wants to take giant strides in the tourist business.

"There should be no pussy-footing or half measures. The thing should be torn apart and put together again properly," said Mr. Merlees, general manager of the Greater Vancouver Visitors and Convention Bureau.

The first step would be the selection of a deputy minister "who would have no other duties but the promotion of travel, tourism and conventions."

Operators, Morrow In Accord

Five service station operators queried on their views of B.C.'s gas price structure, agree with most of the findings and recommendations of Judge Charles C. Morrow.

Judge Morrow has just released the report of his lengthy Royal Commission inquiry into gasoline prices.

Thomas Atkinson, of 617 Vancouver, pointed out that it is more expensive to transport gasoline into remote areas of the province, and therefore it should cost more in these areas.

'FLOW BACK'

He said he felt the oil companies "flow back" much of the profit they make into advertising and research.

One of Judge Morrow's recommendations was that there should be a "rest" of five years in the construction of new service station outlets in the province.

Said operator Phil McQuade, "I'm all for holding back a number of stations. There seem to be plenty right now."

INCREASE NEEDLESS

He continued:

"I'd quit if the companies took off as much as two cents a gallon," he said.

Bill Rutherford, of 552 Esquimalt, said he could see no use for the increase of service stations.

He felt that industrial operators should pay companies at least two cents more for their gasoline, but went along with the companies' system of selling gasoline on consignment.

NORTH ROUTE

Roy Gaskin, 2688 Cedar Hill Road, felt there should be a rest of service station construction only in densely-populated areas.

"Some areas are going to need it."

"For instance that new ferry from Kelsey Bay to Prince Rupert — there's not a gas station anywhere between Campbell River and Kelsey Bay, and the traffic's certainly going to need it."

Howard Sadler, 4059 Haro, felt there were both good and bad points in the judge's recommendations.

However, he felt that price of surplus gas manufactured by the companies is unfair.

"It means that some get this gas cheaper than others — and it's not us operators, nor the motorists."

Protest Filed

Ferry Crews Hint Walkout

While an unconfirmed rumor of a threatening ferry walkout circulated in Victoria Wednesday, lawyer Marney Stevenson turned in a 35-name ferry workers' petition to the Civil Service Commission.

The Victoria lawyer, who represents the ferry workers, said the commission chairman Dr. Hugh Morrison advised her said he would refer the petition "to the proper authorities."

Earlier, a disgruntled ferry worker reported there are rumors of a possible walkout in the making, and that B.C. Federation of Labor secretary E. P. O'Neal was to attend a meeting with ferry employees Wednesday night.

NO ACTION

Mrs. Stevenson could not confirm that the employees had called a meeting, but said she went to Dr. Morrison because no action had been taken on a notice of appeal filed Feb. 21 in protest against the Jan. 28 findings of the Civil Service Commission.

Ferry employees are protesting shift schedules which will impose shifts of 12 days on, three days off, during the four-month summer season.

Following a partial walkout Jan. 1, the commission held a hearing and handed down on Jan. 28 its findings that employees should carry on their work this year and that the B.C. Ferry Authority should work out different schedules for them in 1967.

Mrs. Stevenson said that although a notice of appeal was filed Feb. 21, "nothing has been done to set up a board of reference."

Ease Trade Barriers For B.C.'s Sake—Grit

Liberal leader Ray Perrault suggested in the legislature Wednesday night trade barriers should be lowered with the Western United States.

Chinese Shoot Down Pilotless Plane

TOKYO (UPI)—A pilotless U.S. high altitude military reconnaissance plane was shot down over southwest China Wednesday, the Communist New China News Agency reported.

The plane was shot down by an air unit of the Chinese Liberation Army as it came on a "provocative reconnaissance" flight.

Viet Cong Stampede Tank Unit

SAIGON (UPI)—Attacking Viet Cong stampeded a government armored unit from its compound just north of Saigon early Thursday. Fleeing tanks that tumbled right up to the outskirts of the capital threw the coup-minded city into a quick alert.

The Communist attack came shortly after American marines and troops from South Korea's Tiger Division reported counting 700 Viet Cong dead on two separate battlegrounds.

Two Viet Cong battalions were said to have attacked the South Vietnamese compound about 10 miles north of Saigon.

Reports of Viet Cong dead came from victorious U.S. Marines who counted more than 500 bodies Wednesday as they continued mop up details as part of Operation Texas in Quang Ngai province.

The Koreans, in their biggest operation of the war, swept through an area 280 miles northeast of Saigon that has been a communist sanctuary dominated by the Viet Cong for more than a decade.

The Koreans reported counting 204 bodies by nightfall Wednesday after fierce fighting.

Boys Steal Locomotive And Hit Car

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Police booked three youngsters in the theft of a Southern Pacific diesel locomotive which was driven 15 miles to a collision with an automobile, then abandoned.

No Serious Incidents

LONDON (CP)—Some blocs are willing to come out and say flatly just how serious they consider the racial issue in the British election campaign.

"It's dead serious," said one worker in Smeethwick, quoted in The Evening Standard.

"It's all-important. This place is getting blacker every day. I tell you this, man, if it gets any worse, man, I'll have to go back to Jamaica."

White Hate Wins Negro Tot Loses

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI)—A Caucasian minister and his wife will give up a two-year-old Negro boy they adopted a year ago because they have been "harrassed, humiliated and threatened" by persistent telephone callers.

Rev. Albert Cohen, 38, and his wife, Ann, 33, said they will return the boy, David, to the Los Angeles County Adoption Agency on Monday. They were scheduled to sign final adoption papers later this month.

Mr. Cohen, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, serves as the Protestant chaplain at California State College at Fullerton.

"We have to give up," Mr. Cohen said. "We thought we could stand up and be counted but we just don't have the personal strength."

"We found out what Fullerton's like. It's Watts in reverse."

Cohen said the callers often would ask: "Have you checked all the kids recently?" The couple has four natural children.

Last Sunday night he said he received a call from a man who told him: "Get rid of the Nigger or you might find one of your children gone."

Mr. Cohen said he had been given police protection since someone painted "Watts" on the front door of his home two weeks ago.

"It was all right at first," Mrs. Cohen said. "We thought it would work out even though all our friends, black and white, told us it wouldn't. "I can feel and see the resentment. I'm afraid to take David into a store with me," she said.

"Giving up David at one time would have been the worst thing that could happen. Now what's happening is worse."

Cohen served as a line officer in the Navy until 1954.

then studied for his divinity degree at Oberlin Seminary. Before coming to California State College last July, he had served as pastor of Congregational churches in England and in the nearby communities of Whittier and South Pasadena.

Cohen said he had been told by the Los Angeles agency that David would be put up again for adoption.

House Opens Debate

By RON COLLINTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—If Steven Truscott had been a few years older, he would have been hanged by the neck and there would now be no way to reverse that verdict, a death-penalty abolitionist told the Commons Wednesday night.

Andrew Brewin, one of the leading speakers in the death penalty debate, used the Truscott case in his attack on the fallibility of justice.

The Truscott case, he said, showed that mistakes can be made, "particularly in the atmosphere created by the com-

Something Funny Going On! Truscotts Worry

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Daniel Truscott, mother of Steven Truscott, 21, who is serving a life term for the murder of a 13-year-old girl seven years ago, says she believes "something funny" is going on.

She said Tuesday four psychiatrists have seen her son recently and she and her husband are worried.

While Mrs. Truscott visited her son, his father, Warrant Officer Daniel Truscott, of Richmond, near Ottawa, called Allan MacLeod, the commissioner of penitentiaries, Tuesday to protest the rush of psychiatrists.

Heroin Suspects Murdered

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A former doctor and his wife, who had been awaiting trial on charges of possessing $120,000 in heroin, were found dead in their home here Wednesday.

Police said both had been shot in the head in what appeared to have been a double murder. The weapon was not found.

Police said it appeared that Henry and Margaret Anne McLaughlin had been shot during the night. Both wore night attire.

BODIES FOUND

Mrs. McLaughlin's brother discovered the bodies Wednesday when he called at the house.

The McLaughlins were arrested with two other persons last December following a raid on their home by RCMP and drug squad detectives. Joseph Sperling, 45, was committed for trial on possession and trafficking charges along with Henry McLaughlin, 72, and Margaret Anne McLaughlin, 48.

SEVEN-YEAR TERM

Thelma Mosier, 40, was given a seven-year prison sentence following her trial on similar charges in February.

Police had said following the raid that seizure of the heroin in this West Coast port city had choked off one of three major drug supply rings in the Vancouver area.

Alpinists Driving To Summit

KLEINE SCHEIDEGG, Switzerland (AP)—A death-defying climb of Mount Eiger's north wall entered its final dramatic phase Wednesday with West German alpinist Joerg Lehne reported 600 feet below the summit.

As a thick cloud shrouded the upper part of the triangular mountain, Lehne was leading a determined party of 10 men vying to scale it in the name of their dead colleague, American John Harlin.

His position was pinpointed as only 600 feet below the 14,000-foot summit whose mile-high precipice has been a challenge to hundreds of alpinists.

Racial Issue Quiet in U.K.

By JOSEPH MACSWEEN

LONDON (CP)—Some blocs are willing to come out and say flatly just how serious they consider the racial issue in the British election campaign.

"It's dead serious," said one worker in Smeethwick, quoted in The Evening Standard.

"It's all-important. This place is getting blacker every day. I tell you this, man, if it gets any worse, man, I'll have to go back to Jamaica."

The West Indian's humor cannot, of course, erase the ugly memories of racial bitterness associated with Smeethwick ever since the 1964 election when it was home of the slogan: "If you want a nigger neighbor, vote Labor."

The racial issue appears to be playing a much smaller part in the current campaign than it did in 1964, although it could still sway decisions in some constituencies.

With only one week to go before the March 31 poll, no serious incidents have been reported. However, as Prime Minister Wilson once said in another context: "A lot can happen in a week."

A curious development came Tuesday when Labor candidate Richard Marsh in London-Greenwich ordered an investigation into a Conservative complaint against a Labor canvasser.

The canvasser, it was alleged, put the word around that

Campaign Climax

If the Tories win next week, they will open the doors to floods of Indian immigrants. That, with the party positions reversed, was exactly the kind of charge flung around in 1964.

By Wednesday, Marsh was accusing the Tories of stirring up a racial campaign while Tory candidate John Gummer hotly denied it, saying Labor was to blame.

As the non-white population of Britain climbed to nearly 1,000,000, it was alleged, put the word around that

New Quakes Rock China

TOKYO (UPI)—Two powerful new earthquakes rocked China's Hopei province Wednesday afternoon, destroying many buildings and raising the toll of dead, injured and homeless from a series of quakes that have hit northern Chinese areas.

"Considerable" property damage and some loss of life in the new quakes that struck the Beigang, Hengshui and Shikilichuang areas of southern Hopei, was reported.

Indonesia Plans Non-Red Cabinet

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia's new government is reported seeking to form a cabinet that would eliminate all Communist elements.

The military newspaper Angkatan Bersenjata said Wednesday the cabinet will consist of about 24 members.

It quoted Sri Sultan Hamen-

gku Buwono, a member of the presidium weighing the changes, as saying: "A fresh atmosphere which is free from the PKI (Indonesian Communist party) elements has to be created first to enable the cabinet to work for the people's interests, particularly in the fields of food and clothing and regional development."

$5,000 Worth of Compassion

Gerda Proves All Heart

OTTAWA (CP)—The sad story of Charles Lynch's brief but exciting "fling" with Gerda Munsinger was unfolded in the Ottawa Citizen Wednesday.

Lynch, chief of Southam News Services, told in his daily column, The Nation, how his $5,000 bid for the Canadian rights to the West German beauty's story of her life in Canada had been accepted in Munich.

Then he discovered that the publishers of the six Southam newspapers involved in the purchase were not in agreement as to the story's worth.

They voted 4 to 2 against and Mr. Lynch found himself with—or almost with—a contract he could not back up.

A fast phone call to Southam staffer Charles King in Munich caught Gerda with pen poised, but the contract still unsigned.

"Gentlemen," writes Lynch, "never underestimate the compassion of a woman who has a guy over a barrel... Gerda turned out to be all heart."

She put the pen away, Mr. King pocketed the unsigned contract.

Now Gerda Probably Won't Return

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters)—The agent for Gerda Munsinger, central figure in the alleged sex and security scandal in Canada, said Wednesday he is negotiating to make a satirical movie of the affair.

Josef von Ferenczy said: "I want to show... how a girl behaves when she gets involved in big politics."

He added that Mrs. Munsinger will "in all probability" not return to Canada to clear her name.

Expert Finds:

By HOWARD FIELDS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—The top Air Force expert on unidentified flying objects said Wednesday recent reports of a glowing object seen throughout southern Michigan are "more consistent" than most he has investigated.

Dr. H. Allen Hynek of Northwestern University, chief scientific adviser for the Air Force project Blue Book, refused to speculate, however, on what might be behind the rash of UFO sightings in recent days.

Hynek has been in the area and hip boots for his close-up look at a swamp near Dexter,

Mich., where a farmer reported the ghost ship landed Sunday night, said "I'm still gathering the facts."

Hynek has been in the area since Tuesday, interviewing witnesses and examining areas where the object was reported. His investigation has been carried on behind air force secrecy but he made his comments when encountered at the Dexter police station where he was questioning the police chief and several officers.

"It's like reports from people who saw a fire," the goateed astrophysicist said. "You get as many different facts as you get people who saw the fire. So far, all I've been able to come up with is reports of a variety of lights."

Hynek said: "I wish we had some photographs of this and more technical observers. The ideal situation would be to have a spectrograph trained on the object to determine its makeup. I wish we had them available."

"Frequently these things turn out to be usual things seen under unusual circumstances," he said. Hynek estimated that of the unidentified 10 per cent of UFOs reported since 1948, most could have been identified with a spectrograph.

Hynek said that as an astronomer he would have to admit that "possibly yes," there are intelligent beings in other solar systems, "but it's a long step to say we are being visited by them."

Hynek said he planned another interview with Frank Mannor, the farmer who reported getting a close look at a solid vehicle in marsh near his Dexter farm. His previous interview was interesting, he said.

Braque Still Life Leads

20th Century Art Sale Brings In $1,228,350

NEW YORK (UPI)—The greatest sale of 20th Century art ever to come on the world auction block brought $1,228,350 Wednesday night in the first of two sessions which broke sale prices for paintings by Leger and Mondrian and sculptures by Rodin, Picasso and Moore.

Another auction session of the collection of the late G. David Thompson, Pittsburgh steel fabricator, is expected to push the sale total to nearly $3,000,000 Thursday. Five of the paintings were among the $500,000 worth of art stolen from Thompson's suburban

Pittsburgh home in 1961 and recovered five months later. The top price was $120,000 for a Braque still life painted in 1918. It was purchased by the Beyeler Gallery of Basel, Switzerland. Runner-up was a 1923 Picasso, Three Swimmers, purchased by Philadelphia grocery chain tycoon George Friedman.

The Rhode Island School of Design in Providence carried off the prize sculpture, one of Rodin's three castings of Balzac, a powerful nude study, for $70,000. Picasso's splendid bronze, The Cock, went to the Perla Gallery of New York for

$49,500, and Henry Moore's Seated Woman went to New York attorney Ralph Colin for $47,500.

Leger's 1914 Stairway sent that artist's cubist period work soaring into the $100,000 class, the price paid by a New York agent on behalf of a private collector. The same price fetched Picasso's Woman with Mandolin for an anonymous American collector, and New York dealer Robert Elton paid $60,000 for a Mondrian Composition in Red, Blue and Yellow.

'Mess of Old Shacks' Infuriates Neighbors

By KLAUS MUENTER

MILL BAY — The Good Shepherd Shelter's reputation for kindness and consideration toward animals received its first dent since the shelter moved to its new location here. The shelter is being operated by Mother Cecilia, some nuns and members of another religious group.

It moved to Mill Bay recently from Metchoin.

"We think it is very cruel to keep animals in confinement for weeks without providing them with a proper run," charged

Miss E. M. Elliott and Roy Bain, neighbors living opposite part of the 60-acre property.

Mr. Bain said "We were told by a shelter official that small houses would be built and the grounds would be properly landscaped. Now we are disappointed with the mess of old, run-down shacks bunched together."

Both Miss Elliott and Mr. Bain are great animal lovers and in their neat gardens, birds, coons and cats find a haven.

Between their properties and the shelter property is the Trans-Canada Highway.

Mr. Bain said they were "very happy when they learned the shelter would be located at Mill Bay."

He said that some time ago the dogs confined in one of the shacks were allowed to use an improperly-built run, and some of them took off across the highway into the gardens.

He said the dogs were finally recaptured and have stayed in the shack since without any exercise.

"I think the shelter is very carefully operated because the dogs could have caused a serious accident," he said.

Mr. Bain said that before Christmas he, his wife and Miss Elliott sent handsome donations but "we never received an acknowledgment, let alone a thank you."

He said cats also have been confined to one of the ramshackle buildings without any exercise for some weeks.

"Beautiful Mill Bay now begins to look like a shack town."

"Under the impression Mother Cecilia was doing a wonderful and humane piece of work I wrote her before Christmas telling her how glad I was she was coming to live here."

"I sent her a donation I could ill-afford."

"I have not yet received any acknowledgment for the donation although my cheque has been cashed."

"Mother Cecilia, while living at Metchoin, allowed me to send her four stray cats to be cared for by her."

"Now I understand these cats got free and have simply been left behind to starve."

"Some of Mother Cecilia's dogs are quite savage and have bitten unsuspecting people."

"Mother Cecilia and her Sisters all are quite old, and work such as they are trying to do must be beyond their strength."

"Mother Cecilia, in reference to the crowded shacks across from the Elliott and Bain property, said, 'It is only until proper buildings are put up."

Residents Charge:

Dogs without runs

Workers bitten

Nuns too old

Chocolate diet

"I have heard no complaints and people of Mill Bay have been remarkably kind."

"We only have been here for two weeks."

She admitted the shelter is not properly run now, "but it will be."

She said Bishop De Roo had no jurisdiction over the shelter.

She said there are about 60 dogs, 25 cats, one pony and 17 goats at the shelter now.

Well-known dog trainer and breeder of Chihuahua dogs, Hunter Smith of Hutchinson Road and Trans-Canada Highway, who for many years operated the El Hunt Kennels which now houses the shelter, said he has helped build some of the new kennels at the shelter.

He said, "I have been in the business since I was 14 years old. He said apparently it is the practice at the shelter to give dogs choice cuts of meat and chocolate bars, but a dog needs a well-balanced diet and exercise."

He said the new kennels at the shelter are built of wood which is very impractical, and requires a lot of hard work in cleaning and the idea of providing heat for big dogs with long hair is done at the shelter, is "unwise."

Builder of the well-known glass castle near Duncan, George Plumb worked a while for Mother Cecilia when some of the new facilities were built, but he has no desire to do it again.

Mr. Plumb said, "She thinks far more of a dog than she does of a human being."

PORT ALBERNI — All members of the opposition have affirmed their stand on pollution, but 27 Social Credit members have ignored letters of inquiry sent out two weeks ago, by the valley's citizens committee on pollution.

This was announced by committee chairman Colin Wilson and public relations chairman George McKnight.

BRUSH-OFF Undaunted by what is claimed was the brush-off given its anti-pollution petition and accompanying brief 10 days ago in the legislature the Citizens Committee has apparently merely been taking a breathing space.

Now they are gearing to start the assault all over again, this time taking on the Social Credit government in addition to the forest industry.

OPEN VOTE Letters to each of the MLAs went out two weeks ago, asking each member to state precisely where he would stand on any open vote on anti-pollution legislation, which the committee claims should be made effective during the current session of the legislature.

Protest Filed

Ferry Crews Hint Walkout

While an unconfirmed rumor of a threatening ferry walkout circulated in Victoria Wednesday, lawyer Marney Stevenson turned in a 325-name ferry workers' petition to the Civil Service Commission.

The Victoria lawyer, who represents the ferry workers said commission chairman Dr. Hugh Morrison advised her that they would refer the petition "to the proper authorities."

Earlier, a disgruntled ferry worker reported there are rumors of a possible walkout in the making, and that B.C. Federation of Labor secretary E. P. O'Neal was to attend a meeting with ferry employees Wednesday night.

NO ACTION Mrs. Stevenson could not confirm that the employees had called a meeting, but said she went to Dr. Morrison because no action had been taken on a notice of appeal filed Feb. 21 in protest against the Jan. 24 findings of the Civil Service Commission.

Ferry employees are protesting shift schedules which will impose shifts of 12 days on, three days off, during the four-month summer season.

Following a partial walkout Jan. 1, the commission held a hearing and handed down on Jan. 23 its findings that employees should carry on their work this year and that the B.C. Ferry Authority should work out different schedules for them in 1967.

Mrs. Stevenson said that although a notice of appeal was filed Feb. 21, "nothing has been done to set up a board of reference."

"Finally the men themselves went around and got the 325 signatures to try to show the government that they were serious and that they really wanted a board of review."

Mrs. Stevenson said that although a notice of appeal was filed Feb. 21, "nothing has been done to set up a board of reference."

"Finally the men themselves went around and got the 325 signatures to try to show the government that they were serious and that they really wanted a board of review."

Following a partial walkout Jan. 1, the commission held a hearing and handed down on Jan. 23 its findings that employees should carry on their work this year and that the B.C. Ferry Authority should work out different schedules for them in 1967.

Lake Cowichan Road Leads to Legislature

Opposition Leader Robert Strachan told the legislature Wednesday night he will admit he is not being discriminated against, only after the government paves bumpy Lake Cowichan Road.

Highways Minister Gagliardi replied: "We are going to get to you just as fast as we possibly can—I assure you there is no discrimination at all."

He said surveys are being worked on "so we can call a contract but I don't know just when we can call a contract."

No Married Quarters

Army Has No Plans for Nanaimo

NANAIMO — The Department of National Defence has no plans at the present for building married quarters in Nanaimo.

In a letter the department said "this matter has been investigated and this department does not at present plan to provide housing for families of army personnel serving in Nanaimo."

The letter was read out at Wednesday's meeting of the school board.

No appreciable change is expected in the number of children among service families.

FLU HIT School superintendent Harley Abbot disclosed absenteeism among both teachers and students had recently become much worse due to the flu epidemic.

A week and one-half ago the situation was normal for this time of year, he said, but since that time absenteeism has grown.

The worst-hit schools are Harewood Elementary with a 25 per cent drop in attendance and Woodlands Junior High with 19 per cent.

EXTENSION Tenders were opened for extension to Fairview Elementary with Quinny and Fuller Construction Ltd. being low bidder at $207,407.

This bid still has to be ratified by the board.

Inquest Jury Splits On Verdict

CHEMUNUS—Coroner Dr. R. R. Wilson Wednesday adjourned an inquest into the death of 17-year-old Ambrose Louis of Westholme to the next court of sittings.

The jury foreman told the coroner after the jury had reached a verdict of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

One member insisted it was suicide.

Ambrose Louis was killed instantly early March 12 by a freight train near Indian Reserve No. 11 south of Chemunus, at a level railroad crossing.

Diesel locomotive engineer Allan MacLachlan and trainman Allan Wilde, both of Victoria, said rounding a curve the head light suddenly shone onto a black object lying parallel and between the railroad tracks.

Mr. MacLachlan said he applied the emergency brakes and when the 1,300-ton train stopped 17 cars had passed over the boy.

Duncan physician Dr. Joseph Tassin said the boy was badly mutilated and died of multiple injuries.

Inventor Watches Test

By H. F. REA

COWICHAN BAY—A new labor and time-saving device was tried out in loading lumber aboard Ss. Fjellanger at the CNR wharf this week.

Inventor Arne Lundberg flew from Norway to see it put to use for the first time.

A Scottish-trained engineer with Munck Engineering Co., Bergen, his 15-ton fork lift device is worked with the hydraulic crane system carried aboard this ship.

It can handle a 10-ton load every three minutes.

Crane Aids Hydro Job

Framed against Mt. Benson on the skyline, a crane lifts a four-ton transformer for B.C. Hydro, installing new underground wiring for the main CPR terminal on the Nanaimo waterfront. The old wiring was removed to make way for a large new shopping centre on CPR land.

Road Paving Passed

COURTENAY — City council has approved a paving program which is estimated will cost $36,637.

The areas to be resurfaced in the program are Fifth Street from Piddock to Woods; on Harrison from Sixth Street to Cumberland Road; on England Avenue from Eighth to Tenth Streets; on Tenth from Cliffe to England; on Stewart between Tenth and Twelfth and on Sixth from Cliffe to England.

Also included in the program is curb-to-curb paving on Cumberland Road and Comox Road within the city limits now serviced with cement sidewalks.

This will be done on a shareable basis with the Department of Highways.

TOTEM SITES
Bob Clifton of the Native Brotherhood appeared before council to discuss suitable sites for erection of a 12-foot totem pole.

The poles now in the process of being carved will mark the Route of the Haida and will be put in prominent places in various Island municipalities.

Three sites were suggested for Courtenay: City hall, Lewis Park and the tourist bureau. The bureau site won the nod of approval.

The erection of the totem will be part of the centennial celebrations.

TWO PROTESTS
Despite many delegations and letters registering protest against a pound bylaw, the legislation received its third reading Monday.

Two more citizens, Laura Bateman and Bill Edgar appeared before council to register disapproval and ask that serious consideration be given before the bylaw was passed.

COURT CASE
The bylaw was opened for amendment following recent court cases involving James Livesay and his geese.

When council moved to have the poundkeeper given the authority to enter upon lands in the boundaries of the city, to seize offending animals, a hue and cry was raised.

Only a small amendment was made before passage which added the words "at all reasonable times."

FINAL WORDING
When it is reconsidered and finally adopted, if further amendments are not made the bylaw will read:

"We're not just scrapping this position," Trustee Joe Shook said, "but I think we'll go by for a year or so without anybody in the post."

"We will be appointing someone again in maybe two years time," he added.

Present supervisor of pupil personnel services is Hugh Taylor, who will be leaving in June to continue his studies.

PORT ALBERNI — News of the death of Barry Wright, 28, in a truck and freight train collision at Canoe B.C., has shocked valley residents.

Barry Wright was the son of Mrs. Ellen Wright of Haslam Road, Alberni and of one-time mayor Ben Wright, at present on a trip to Europe. Barry was born in the valley in 1938.

His wife, the former Pat Anley, of another well-known Alberni Valley family, survives him at their home, 1108 Michigan Street in Alberni.

Mr. Wright had been at Salmon Arm for two months and operated his own logging truck there. The truck was ripped in two by the impact with the freight train.

DUNCAN — Indian youngsters were being invited to participate in an Indian Arts and Crafts contest this spring. Deadline for entries is May 31.

The contest is sponsored by Vancouver Island Regional Library and there will be two age groups, up to 13 years, juniors and seniors up to 18 years of age.

Duncan head librarian Mrs. L. Rule said "We feel this type of art should be encouraged and displayed where people may see it and the library is a logical place."

Bonus Paid On Butterfat
VERNON (CP) — The board of directors of the North Okanagan Co-Operative Association has approved a bonus payment of two cents per pound butterfat on all milk and cream shipped to the association last year. The total amounts to $33,624.

Idle, Trouble Youth

Liquor Laws Blamed

By MARY TAYLOR
Second of Three Parts

PORT ALBERNI—Parents who find their children steering for trouble, are often told by experts: "Go to your minister."

Since the Twin Cities have many churches, and an industrial high income rating, you might expect to find many enthusiastic church-sponsored youth groups on the move.

It isn't so.

Those youth groups that are organized are often dragging their feet.

But don't be too quick to blame the churchmen. Where programs do exist, the greatest problem seems to be to get the young people to take part in them.

A spokesman for one group said, "If older people organize it, the young people don't want it."

Another said, "We can't get them to participate. We have badminton facilities but no one wants to play. The young people have rejected it."

"It's not fun they are after. Sports don't interest them. We have trouble finding anything that will interest them."

Another churchman, Father Sigmund Lavole of Notre Dame Roman Catholic Church is attempting a new way to achieve communication with his young parishioners. He tried to keep the church hall open evenings from 8 to 10, with longer hours and perhaps a church supper on Saturday night for young people over 16 to attend.

Some day he'd like to add a billiard table to his stereo and record collection. A study room for those who find it hard to work at home is another dream. He keeps the coffee pot on and the pop machine full for everyone to use.

Father Sig, as the boys all call him, is a realist, however. He says kids are no worse today than they ever were, but circumstances have changed.

Priest Blames World
"How can the young people be normal when the whole world is abnormal?" he asks.

"When there is no communication within the family, and no respect even among our leaders in the political world, how can we expect that our young people will avoid absorbing these unfortunate attitudes?"

He is aware that a set-up such as he hoped for within the church will only be a success for a while. The young people will tire of it, and he will have to seek new ways to attract and to counsel them.

"It's frustrating," he said, echoing his counterparts in other churches. "Why don't the kids have a longer span of interest? I think it is a lack of stability. Most of today's homes, and that included my own parishioners, in some cases make no attempt to make a real home. There's just no communication."

Other church workers, youth workers, even the police and the parents laid much of the blame for juvenile drinking on better-than-average wages and shift work.

"The boys are paid at an adult rate, with only a juvenile idea of how to spend it," was the summing up.

"They think money buys everything," said another.

"We have put too much stress on material things. There are so many things here to do that don't cost money, fishing, hiking, hunting. But let's don't bother. They get a job, buy a car, and then can't think of a thing to do but get a bottle."

Perhaps the liquor laws are at fault.

The boys are not hard-bitten toughs, they're the average newly-employed or part-time employed fellows found in almost any family.

They work hard, take their share of responsibility and earn a man's wages.

'Kids Must Bootleg'
One millworker put it like this:

"It's as if we said, 'You can work as we do, get pay as we do, but can't play as we do. The boys come off work. All the older guys go in for a beer, or a drink in the evening. But the kids who work with us have to buy a bootleg case of beer or a bottle, and they drink it all up, because they paid so much for it."

"Naturally they get into trouble. It's like the old guzzling that used to go on in cars and hotel rooms before we got civilized cocktail bars."

Father Sigmund agreed that it is possible supervised drinking would beat unsupervised liquor swigging. Most boys from 18 on are going to try a drink or two, he feels.

The very fact of being allowed to do it legally would kill the fun," he suggested.

Some other church workers

agreed that perhaps being forbidden to drink leads to rebellion.

But other churches feel differently. In the Pentecostal Church, youth groups, as a separate entity, do not exist. Instead family night services are held, and all ages encouraged to attend a service which is conducted by the young people.

Chinese Shoot Down Pilotless Plane

TOKYO (UPI)—A pilotless U.S. high altitude military reconnaissance plane was shot down over southwest China Wednesday, the Communist New China News Agency reported.

The plane was shot down by an air unit of the Chinese Liberation Army as it came on a "provocative reconnaissance" flight.

CONG ROUTS TANKS

SAIGON (UPI)—Attacking Viet Cong stampeded a government armored unit from its compound just north of Saigon early Thursday. Fleeing tanks that tumbled right up to the outskirts of the capital threw the coup-minded city into a quick alert.

The Communist attack came shortly after American marines and troops from South Korea's Tiger Division reported counting 700 Viet Cong dead on two separate battlegrounds.

Two Viet Cong battalions were said to have attacked the South Vietnamese compound about 10 miles north of Saigon.

Reports of Viet Cong dead came from victorious U.S. Marines who counted more than 500 bodies Wednesday as they continued mop up details as part of Operation Texas in Quang Ngai province.

The Koreans, in their biggest operation of the war, swept through an area 280 miles northeast of Saigon that has been a Communist sanctuary dominated by the Viet Cong for more than a decade.

The Koreans reported counting 204 bodies by nightfall Wednesday after fierce fighting.

No Serious Incidents

By JOSEPH MacSWEN

LONDON (CP)—Some blokes are willing to come out and say flatly just how serious they consider the racial issue in the British election campaign.

"It's dead serious," said one worker in Smethwick, quoted in The Evening Standard.

"It's all-important. This place is getting blacker every day. I tell you this, man, if it gets any worse, man, I'll have to go back to Jamaica."

The West Indian's humor cannot, of course, erase the ugly memories of racial bitterness associated with Smethwick ever since the 1964 election when it was home of the slogan: "If you want a nigger neighbor, vote Labor."

The racial issue appears to be playing a much smaller part in the current campaign than it did in 1964, although it could still sway decisions in some constituencies.

With only one week to go before the March 31 poll, no serious incidents have been reported. However, as Prime Minister Wilson once said in another context: "A lot can happen in a week."

A curious development came Tuesday when Labor candidate Richard Marsh in London-Greenwich ordered an investigation into a Conservative complaint against a Labor canvasser.

The canvasser, it was alleged, put the word around that if the Tories win next week, they will open the doors to floods of Indian immigrants. That, with the party positions reversed, was exactly the kind of charge flung around in 1964.

David and Rev. Albert Cohen

White Hate Wins Negro Tot Loser

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI)—A Caucasian minister and his wife will give up a two-year-old Negro boy they adopted a year ago because they have been "harassed, humiliated and threatened" by persistent telephone callers.

Rev. Albert Cohen, 38, and his wife, Ann, 33, said they will return the boy, David, to the Los Angeles County Adoption Agency on Monday. They were scheduled to sign final adoption papers later this month.

Mr. Cohen, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, serves as the Protestant chaplain at California State College at Fullerton.

"We have to give up," Mr. Cohen said. "We thought we could stand up and be counted but we just don't have the personal strength."

"We found out what Fullerton's like. It's Watts in reverse."

Cohen said the callers often would ask: "Have you checked all the kids recently?" The couple has four natural children.

Last Sunday night he said he received a call from a man who told him: "Get rid of the Nigger or you might find one of your children gone."

Mr. Cohen said he had been given police protection since someone painted "Watts" on the front door of his home two weeks ago.

"It was all right at first," Mrs. Cohen said. "We thought it would work out even though all our friends, black and white, told us it wouldn't. "I can feel and see the resentment. I'm afraid to take David into a store with me," she said.

"Giving up David at one time would have been the worst thing that could happen. Now what's happening is worse."

Cohen served as a line officer in the Navy until 1954.

then studied for his divinity degree at Oberlin Seminary. Before coming to California State College last July, he had served as pastor of Congregational churches in England and in the nearby communities of Whittier and South Pasadena.

Cohen said he had been told by the Los Angeles agency that David would be put up again for adoption.

Something Funny Going On! Truscotts Worry

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Daniel Truscott, mother of Steven Truscott, 21, who is serving a life term for the murder of a 15-year-old girl seven years ago, says she believes "something funny" is going on.

She said Tuesday four psychiatrists have seen her son recently and she and her husband are worried.

While Mrs. Truscott visited her son, his father, Warrant Officer Daniel Truscott, of Richmond, near Ottawa, called Allan MacLeod, the commissioner of penitentiaries, Tuesday to protest the rush of psychiatrists.

OTTAWA — If Steven Truscott had been a few years older, he would have been hanged by the neck and there would now be no way to reverse that verdict, a death-penalty abolitionist told the Commons Wednesday night.

Heroin Suspects Murdered

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A former doctor and his wife, who had been awaiting trial on charges of possessing $120,000 in heroin, were found dead in their home here Wednesday.

Police said both had been shot in the head in what appeared to have been a double murder. The weapon was not found.

BODIES FOUND
Mrs. McLaughlin's brother discovered the bodies Wednesday when he called at the house. The McLaughlins were arrested with two other persons last December following a raid on their home by RCMP and drug squad detectives. Joseph Sperling, 45, was committed for trial on possession and trafficking charges along with Henry McLaughlin, 72, and Margaret Anne McLaughlin, 48.

SEVEN-YEAR TERM
Thelma Mosier, 40, was given a seven-year prison sentence following her trial on similar charges in February.

Police had said following the raid that seizure of the heroin in this West Coast port city had choked off one of three major drug supply rings in the Vancouver area.

KLEINE SCHEIDEGG, Switzerland (AP)—A death-defying climb of Mount Elger's north wall entered its final dramatic phase Wednesday with West German alpinist Joerg Lehne reported 600 feet below the summit.

As a thick cloud shrouded the upper part of the triangular mountain, Lehne was leading a determined party of 10 men vying to scale it in the name of their dead colleague, American John Harlin.

When last seen by a powerful telescope set up in the Kleine Scheidegg pass, Lehne was working feverishly on a steep, overhanging rock, hammering in nails and moving up fairly fast.

His position was pinpointed as only 600 feet below the 14,000-foot summit whose mile-high precipice has been a challenge to hundreds of alpinists.

New Quakes Rock China

TOKYO (UPI)—Two powerful new earthquakes rocked China's Hsuei province Wednesday afternoon, destroying many buildings and raising the toll of dead, injured and homeless from a series of quakes that have hit southern Chinese areas.

"Considerable" property damage and some loss of life in the new quakes that struck the Hsuei, Hengshui and Shihchiang areas of southern Hsuei, was reported.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The greatest sale of 20th Century art ever to come on the world auction block brought $1,228,350 Wednesday night in the first of two sessions which broke sale prices for paintings by Leger and Mondrian and sculptures by Rodin, Picasso and Moore.

Another auction session of the collection of the late G. David Thompson, Pittsburgh steel fabricator, expected to push the sale total to nearly $3,000,000 Thursday. Five of the paintings were among the $500,000 worth of art stolen from Thompson's suburban

JAKARTA (AP)—Indonesia's new government is reported seeking to form a cabinet that would eliminate all Communist elements.

The military newspaper Angkatan Bersenjata said Wednesday the cabinet will consist of about 24 members.

It quoted Sri Sultan Hamen-

gku Buwono, a member of the presidium weighing the changes, as saying: "A fresh atmosphere, which is free from the PKI (Indonesian Communist party) elements has to be created first to enable the cabinet to work for the people's interests, particularly in the fields of food and clothing and regional development."

$5,000 Worth of Compassion

Gerda Proves All Heart

OTTAWA (CP)—The sad story of Charles Lynch's brief but exciting "fling" with Gerda Munsinger was unfolded in the Ottawa Citizen Wednesday.

Lynch, chief of Southam News Services, told in his daily column, The Nation, how his $5,000 bid for the Canadian rights to the West German beauty's story of her life in Canada had been accepted in Munich.

Then he discovered that the publishers of the six Southern newspapers involved in the purchase were not in agreement as to the story's worth.

They voted 4 to 2 against and Mr. Lynch found himself with—or almost with—a contract he could not back up.

A fast phone call to Southern staffer Charles King in Munich caught Gerda with pen poised, but the contract still unsigned.

She put the pen away. Mr. King pocketed the unsigned contract.

Now Gerda Probably Not Coming

MUNICH, West Germany (Reuters)—The agent for Gerda Munsinger, central figure in the alleged sex and security scandal in Canada, said Wednesday he is negotiating to make a satirical movie of the affair.

Josef von Ferenczy said: "I want to show... how a girl behaves when she gets involved in big politics."

He added that Mrs. Munsinger will "in all probability" not return to Canada to clear her name.

Expert Finds:

By HOWARD FIELDS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—The top Air Force expert on unidentified flying objects said Wednesday recent reports of a glowing object seen throughout southern Michigan are "more consistent" than most he has investigated.

Dr. H. Allen Hynek of Northwestern University, chief scientific adviser for the Air Force project Blue Book, refused to speculate, however, on what might be behind the rash of UFO sightings in recent days.

Hynek has been in the area and hip boots for his close-up look at a swamp near Dexter,

Mich., where a farmer reported the ghost ship landed Sunday night, said "I'm still gathering the facts."

Hynek has been in the area since Tuesday, interviewing witnesses and examining areas where the object was reported. His investigation has been carried on behind air force secrecy but he made his comments when encountered at the Dexter police station where he was questioning the police chief and several officers.

"It's like reports from people who saw a fire," the goateed astrophysicist said. "You get as many different facts as you get people who saw the fire. So far, all I've been able to come up with is reports of a variety of lights."

Hynek said: "I wish we had some photographs of this and more technical observers. The ideal situation would be to have a spectrograph trained on the object to determine its makeup. I wish we had them available."

"Frequently these things turn out to be usual things seen under unusual circumstances," he said. Hynek

estimated that of the unexplained 10 per cent of UFO's reported since 1948, most could have been identified with a spectrograph.

Hynek said that as an astronomer he would have to admit that "possibly yes," there are intelligent beings in other solar systems, "but it's a long step to say we are being visited by them."

Hynek said he planned another interview with Frank Mannor, the farmer who reported getting a close look at a solid vehicle in marsh near his Dexter farm. His previous interview was interrupted.
